AWFUL STORM ON
THE GREAT LAKESSeverest Blow Experienced In Recent YearsELEVEN VESSELS WRECKED AND MANY DAMAGED.Loss of Property and Life May Be Much Larger Ere the Hurricane Subsides.CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The storm which last night and today swept over northern Lake Michigan, Lake Huron and Lake Erie was one of the most severe in recent years.As far as returns are obtainable tonight eleven vessels have been completely wrecked and twelve to fifteen others
were more or less severely damaged.
Twelve lives are known to have been lost, and as the gale on Southern Lake Huron and Lake Erie is still blowing fiercely tonight it is feared that many more, both of life and property, will be reported within the next twenty-four hours.The boats wrecked are as follows:
The Frank Perry, sunk off Boot Island
in the Chicago group.
The Joseph E. Fay, run ashore near Rogers City, Mich., and broken to pieces by waves. The mate, Joseph Fay, was drowned.The D. P. Rhodes, in tow of steamer
J. S. Fay, driven ashore near Sheboygan, Mich.The schooner Emma L. Neilson, stranded in Presque Isle harbor. The boat was badly damaged but the crew was saved.
The schooner Minnedosa, foundered 2 and one-half miles off Harbor Beach, in Lake Huron, early today, carried down the entire crew of eight men.The schooner Montmorency, ashore eighteen miles west of Erie, Pa.The schooner Ni Rivina, sunk in Lake Superior off Grand Marais, Mich., crew saved.The schooner Tasmanian, of the Corrigan fleet, sunk two and one-half miles southwest of the southernmost lightship on Lake Erie, carried crew of eight men of whom nothing is known.The schooner E. Sheldon, beached and wrecked near Loraine, Ohio.The schooner Knickerbocker, beached to pieces off Cleveland.The schooner Metcalf, sunk near breakwater light, Cleveland.The Minnedosa, of which so far as known the greatest loss of life occurred,
was coming down from Fort William,
bound for some Lake Ontario port with a cargo of wheat. She was in tow of the steamer Westmont, which was also towing the schooner and the Minnedosa and Westmont were separated from the Minnedosa. They managed to make shelter at Harbor Beach late in the afternoon and reported that they had seen the Minnedosa go down. She was in command of Captain Phillips, who had his wife aboard. The names of the other members of the crew are not known.The gale created such a sea as has not been experienced by sailors on the lakes in the last fifteen years. Many of the large steam barges which make nothing of the usual heavy seas prevalent at this time of year were compelled to seek shelter in the nearest ports.The east shore of Lake Michigan suffered severely.CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 20.—As a result of the wildest storm that has swept Lake Erie in years, wrecks have strewn
the shore the entire distance from Buffalo to Detroit. The storm came with abrupt suddenness at an early hour Friday morning and continued without interruption throughout the day. At midnight the wind's velocity, which reached 54 miles an hour, its highest point today, had decreased little in force,
and many reports were received during the day did not entirely cover the extent of the disasters.The storm swept the lake from one end to the other and every vessel that was exposed suffered to a more or less extent. The known losses are enumerated tonight included the following:The schooner Wisconsin, on rocks off Loraine, all probably saved.The schooner E. A. Price, damaged near Cleveland.The schooner Pinkel, beached Buffalo, badly damaged.The schooner Yukon, sunk off Ashtabula harbor, crew rescued.The wreck of the Sarah E. Sheldon near Loraine was the most serious of any reported thus far and the story of its experiences was thrilling in every way. The Sheldon left Cleveland with a cargo of coal and was bound up the lake. Her troubles began in getting out of the harbor and when she was beached
at Loraine she was almost continually at the mercy of the tempest.
After running ashore she was buffeted and pounded for over seven hours by the wind and waves. Two times from Cleveland, one of which bore the life saving crew of this port, succeeded in rescuing all but two of the crew. Those two attempted to escape in a small life boat and they were only saved out of reach and loss. The drowned man was John Fox, a seaman, and Charles Evans, second mate. The vessel is a mystery wreck.BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 20.—A gale rushing seventy-two miles an hour at its greatest velocity, swept over Buffalo and western New York from early this morning until late tonight. Much property was destroyed and at least one person was killed. Lake Erie, lashed into a fury by the tremendous blow, played havoc with shipping.The schooner Matamoras, light, bound from Buffalo to Duluth was found off Ripley, 20 miles west of Dunkirk at 4:30
this afternoon. Captain Morgan and the crew were saved. The Matamoras probably will go to pieces during the night.Dunkirk fishermen report that an unknown large is in distress off Van Buren point, 10 miles west of Dunkirk, but the story cannot be confirmed.Captain Ohman and Seaman Parsons of the large Unadilla, were swept overboard with a deck load of lumber. They clung to the floating timbers until rescued.Mrs. Catherine Yeager, 54 years of age, was crushed to death beneath a brick wall blown down by the wind.LONDON WEEKLIES QUESTION IRVING'S RIGHT
TO BURIAL IN ABBEY.LONDON, Oct. 20.—Many of the weekly publications, including the Spectator,
the Saturday Review and the Outlook, have articles expressing regret that the Dean of Westminster should have sanctioned the interment in Westminster Abbey of the ashes of Sir Henry Irving and deaving to Irving greatness as an actor in the sense that Garrick was great. They argue that space in the abbey has become so limited that none
but the nation's greatest should be interred there and that it is impossible to regard Irving in that category.Some of these articles openly assert that there are other actors of Irving's period as great, and perhaps greater,
whom nobody would think of proposing for interment in the Abbey and that in time to come it will be regretted that such a hasty decision was taken.At the same time, however, all the articles speak in most generous terms of Irving's great talent and personal character and repudiate any desire to detract from his acknowledged merit, except as touching this question of deep national importance—interment in Westminster
Abbey.BATTILING NELSON AND JIMMY GARDNER TO BE MATCHED TODAY.KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 20.—The
journal will say tomorrow: Billy Nolan, manager of Battling Nelson, announced
last night that he will start articles today for a fight between Nelson and Jimmy Gardner. Representatives of Garner and a San Francisco club will be here to meet Nolan and bind the match.
One of the conditions is that Gardner
must weigh in at 155 pounds at the ring side.

W. H. Wanamaker Dead.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—William H. Wanamaker, head of the firm of Wanamaker & Brown, and brother of John Wanamaker, died at his home here tonight, after a short illness, aged 63 years.

A Railroad Man's View.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 20.—Russell Harding,
first vice president of the Erie railroad,
who is in St. Louis, declared today that he considered the proposed regulation of railroad rates by the federal government,
as urged by President Roosevelt in his speech at Raleigh, "utterly impracticable,
if not really impossible."

McMichael Goes to Calcutta.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The appointment of W. H. McMichael, chief clerk of the department of state to be general at Calcutta, was announced at the department of state today.EXPRESS THIEF'S BLUNDERING WORKNEARLY ALL THE BOOTY HAS BEEN RECOVERED.Butler was Innocent Custodian of Big Sum—How Cunliffe was Betrayed by "Friend."BRIDGEPORT, Oct. 20.—The chances that the police will recover nearly the whole of the $101,000 stolen from the Adams Express company in Pittsburgh
by Edward G. Cunliffe, who was arrested here yesterday and taken to Portland today, seems bright. Tonight $90,000 was found in a trunk belonging to a butler of a prominent family at Black Rock, but the butler and the family
by whom he is employed are ignorant of the fact that the large sum found was within the house.Although there is a possibility that the remaining $10,500 has been destroyed the police are of the opinion that another accomplice of Cunliffe may reveal the hiding place of the missing sum. In round numbers $90,000 has been found within the past twenty-four hours. After figuring on about $500
as the amount which Cunliffe has spent
or was found on him when arrested, there is left a sum of $10,500 yet to be accounted for.The discovery of the money in the Black Rock home tonight was brought about by keeping a close watch on one of Cunliffe's chance acquaintances,
George Eisenman, who was with Cun-
liffe when he was arrested yesterday morning. According to Eisenman's story, he met Cunliffe in a cheap hotel on Wednesday night, the two going together for some time. Cunliffe had a package with him and the men were about to leave each other when Cun-liffe said he wanted Eisenman to take the package as it was laundry, which he wanted to keep in a safe place.
Eisenman took the bundle to his sister's home, 688 Nash street, and when alone opened it and found the big sum of money.Captain Arnold, of the detective bureau, who knows Eisenman and who saw him with Cunliffe when the latter was arrested, went to the home of Eisenman's
sister and found the bundle of shirts,
but no money, and he suspected that Eisenman had abstracted a part of Cun-liffe's plunder. Eisenman was shadowed all today and he was seen to give a small package to his friend the butler.
Tonight Eisenman was taken to the Black Rock house and asked the butler for the package. The butler went to his trunk and turned it over to Eisenman.
Captain Arnold went to the latter and had not been told what was in the package.
Captain Arnold would not reveal the name of the butler or the family which employed him. Eisenman was taken to police headquarters, but was released later.

His Southern Blood.

"It has been my very great fortune to have the right to claim that my blood is half North and half Southern and I would deny the right of any man here to feel a greater pride in the deeds of every Southerner than I feel.
Of the children, the brothers and sisters of my mother who were born and brought into this house on the hill there, my two uncles afterwards entered the Confederate service and served in the Confederate army. One, the younger man, served on the Alabama and was the youngest officer aboard her. He was the captain of one of her broadside two-pounders at her final fight and when at the very end the Alabama was sinking and the Kearsarge ran under her stern
and came up under the side that had hitherto not been engaged, my uncle, Irvin Bulloch, shifted his gun from one side to the other and the last two shots fired from the Alabama."

A "Colonel Newcomb."

"James Dunwoody Bulloch was an admiral in the Confederate service. Of all the people whom I have ever met he was the one that came nearest to that beautiful creation of Thackeray's 'Colonel Newcomb.' Most of you, I don't want to think that I have the ancestral right to claim a proud kinship with those who showed their devotion to duty as they saw the duty, whether they were the gray or whether they wore the blue."All Americans who are worthy the name feel an equal pride in the valor
of those who fought on one side or the other, provided only that each died with all his might and soul and mind his duty
as it was given him to see his duty."

At Presbyterian Church.

The president next was driven to the old Presbyterian church in which his grandfather, James Bulloch, was once a leading member. Bulloch dropped dead in this church while teaching a Sunday school class in 1849, and among those present in the church today were three members of that class who were present at the time. The venerable pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. W. E. Baker, offered a prayer and the president andROOSEVELT VISITED AT HIS MOTHER'S OLD HOMETour of the South Marked By Much Enthusiasm--Weighty Utterances
On Present Day IssuesROSWELL, Ga., Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt today carried out his long-cherished plan of visiting the home of his mother—Roswell, Ga. One of his reasons for coming South was that he might see the old homestead where his mother spent her girlhood and which she left at a bride that the visit was fringed with many tender recollections was evident, and as his carriage drove away from the old Bulloch mansion, where his mother lived and married, the president murmured to Mrs. Roosevelt:
"I can hardly bear to leave here."

At the Homestead.

The president reached Roswell at 7:30 this morning and was joined here by Senator and Mrs. Clay, who were his guests at breakfast. He then entered a carriage and was driven to the mansion.
This fine old homestead is now the property of J. D. Wing, a lumber merchant of this section, who lives in it with his sister, Mrs. Wood, the postmistress of Roswell. Here he was met by two old servants who lived on the place during his mother's youngwomanhood. One of these is "Aunt Grace," who acted as maid to Miss Martha Bul-loch, who afterward became Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, and the other is William Jackson, who decorated the mansion on the occasion of the marriage of its young mistress. The president was deeply touched as he shook the hands of these old servants.In company with Mrs. Roosevelt he then approached the house, calling to the attention of the company many incidents connected with his mother's childhood. Before leaving the mansion
he was given a noisy welcome by all the steam whistles in the city.The demonstration increased in volume
as the train came to a stop. Waiting
to receive the president was the committee headed by Governor Terrell and
composed of Senator A. S. Clay, Congressman Livingston, Mayor J. Woodard and Bishop C. Nolan of the Episcopal diocese of Georgia. A committee of women headed by Mrs. Terrell and Mrs. Clarke Howell was in readiness to receive Mrs. Roosevelt. As the train stopped Governor Terrell and Senator Clay, accompanied by Mrs. Terrell and Mrs. Howell, stepped aboard and greeted the president and Mrs.
Roosevelt. A moment later the party emerged and introductions followed.
Mrs. Roosevelt and her party departed almost immediately for the governor's mansion while the president and party were escorted to carriages in waiting back of the station.

Procession to Park.

The line of march was quickly formed
and the president and escort started for Piedmont park, where the state fair is being held. The distance from the station to the park is about three miles and throughout the entire route, which ran along historic Peach Tree street, crowds lined the sidewalks and gave the president round after round of cheers,
which the executive smilingly acknowledged, but in hand.It was a few minutes past 11 o'clock
when the president reached the park and again he was greeted by the noise of steam whistles from all the engines in the fair grounds and the cheers of my thousands awaiting his arrival. After a review of the crowd, the president
and his party, including the governor, McPherson from the Philippines, the president delivered his address. President Hughes of the fair association introduced Governor Terrell, who presented Mayor Woodward. Senator Clay introduced the president. As the president rose to speak the throng cheered him loudly and waved their hats, umbrellas and handkerchiefs.

A Weighty Utterance.

President Roosevelt began by saying that the problems Americans have to face today are very serious, but after all they are only part of the price they have to pay for the triumphs they have won and the high position they have attained. He cautioned them against displaying a foolish optimism but warned them also to beware of drifting into blind pessimism in their views of the future. In this connection the president said:

Envy is the Danger.

"Undoubtedly the growth of wealth
in this country has had some very unfortunate accomplishments, but it seems to me that much the worst damage that people of wealth can do the rest of us is not any actual physical harm, but the awakening in our breasts of either
the mean vice of worshipping mere wealth, or the man of mere wealth,
for the wealth's sake, or the equally
mean vice of viewing with rancorous
envy and hatred the men of wealth merely because they are men of wealth."In referring to the question of government supervision of the great corporations, the president characterized them as "the most efficient business implement" and further said:

Corporation Supervision.

"The corporation is the creature of the state. It should always be held accountable to some sovereign, and this accountability should be real and not sham. Therefore, in my judgment, all corporations doing an interstate business, and this means the great majority of the largest corporations, should be held accountable to the Federal government, because their accountability
should be co-extensive with their field
of action."But must certainly we should not

number of the townspeople, many of whom had known the president's mother.
The reception of the president at the old home of his mother was a cordial
one. The people greeted him both as president and as the son of one of their neighbors. Many were the kind references to his mother from those who knew her and many were the expressions of good will toward her distinguished son.ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—The president's visit to Atlanta today was a marked event in the history of the state of Georgia. He was greeted on his arrival by his most distinguished citizens and throughout the day every hand were shouted words of welcome that left no room for doubt of their sincerity. The city was in gala attire and business was practically suspended
that all might greet the distinguished guest. South Carolina, in the person of Governor Heyward, added its welcome to the South. The threatening clouds of the early morning failed to loose their weight of rain and although a chilling wind prevailed through the entire day, it failed to cool the ardor of the welcome.Numerous extra trains brought their burden of Georgians from the surrounding country and it was estimated that not less than 100,000 persons saw and welcomed the president.

A Noisy Welcome.

The presidential train came into the handsome new station exactly on time
and as it appeared threading its way through the maze of tracks in the yards
it was given a noisy welcome by all the steam whistles in the city.The demonstration increased in volume
as the train came to a stop. Waiting
to receive the president was the committee headed by Governor Terrell and

such effective supervision over it as to ensure power of regulation over it, as to en-able us to guarantee that its activity will be exercised only in ways beneficial to the public. The unwisdom of any well-meaning but misguided effort to check corporate activity has been shown in striking fashion in recent years by our experience in the Philippines and in Puerto Rico. Our national legislators very properly determined that the islands should not be exploited by adventurers without regard to the interests of the people of the islands themselves.
But unfortunately in their zeal to prevent the islands from being improperly exploited they took measures of such severity as to seriously and in some respects vitally to hamper and retard the development of the islands."The president said that recent revelations of the manner in which some of the great fortunes have been obtained
had caused the conscience of the people to be deeply shocked. He hoped that a good deal could be done by law to remedy this state of things, but when
that was done there would yet remain much that could only be reached by the force of public opinion.The president then told his audience that the South's great staple—cotton—had caused the balance of trade to be turned in favor of the United States
last year. The statement that China afforded the largest market for American cotton carried him to the subject of the boycott of our goods in China.
Concerning China's boycott:"This government is doing, and will continue to do, all it can to put a stop to the boycott. But there is one measure to be taken toward his end in which I shall need the assistance of the congress. We must insist firmly on our rights, and China must beware of persisting in a course of conduct to which we cannot honorably submit. But we
in our turn must recognize our duties exactly as we insist on our rights. We cannot expect China to do us justice unless we do China justice."

Chinese Exclusion.

The chief cause in bringing about the boycott of our goods in China was undoubtedly our attitude toward the Chinese who come to this country. This attitude of ours does not justify the action of the Chinese in the boycott and especially some of the forms which that action has taken. But the fact remains that in the past we have come short of our duty toward the people of China."It is our duty, in the interest of our own wage workers, to forbid all Chinese of the colic class—that is,
laborers, skilled or unskilled—from coming here. The greatest of all duties is national self-preservation and the most important step in national self-preservation is to preserve in every way the well-being of the wage-workers. I am convinced that the well-being of our wage-workers demands the exclusion of the Chinese coolies and it is therefore our duty to exclude them."But we should not only operate the law with as little harshness as possible,
but we should show every courtesy and consideration and every encouragement
to all Chinese who are not of the laboring class to come to this country. Our laws and treaties should be so framed
as to guarantee to all Chinamen, save
of the excepted colic class, the same right of entry to this country and the same treatment while here as is guaranteed to citizens of any other nation. By executive action I am as rapidly as possible putting a stop to the abuses which have come to exist during many years in the administration of this law. I can do a good deal, and will do a good deal,
even without the action of congress,
but I cannot do all that should be done
unless such action is taken, and that action I most earnestly hope will be taken. It is needed in our own interest and especially in the interest of the Pacific slope and of the South Atlantic and Gulf states; for it is short sighted
indeed for us to permit foreign competitors to drive us from the great markets of China."Moreover, the action I ask is demanded by considerations that are higher than mere interest, for I ask it in the name of what is just and right.
America should take the lead in establishing international relations on the same basis of honesty and upright dealing which we regard as essential between man and man."

An Elaborate Luncheon.

A luncheon followed the open air speech at the fair grounds. From the speaker's stand the president was taken to the Piedmont Club house attended by a detachment of the Twelfth cavalry.
About 100 guests were seated at the tables, which were profusely decorated with flowers and flags.

John Temple Graves.

During the progress of the luncheon,
John Temple Graves, editor of the Atlanta Daily News, addressed the president in a personal welcome as a man whom it was a delight to meet aside from his official character. He referred to the president as Georgia's most illustrious grandson, which the president received with a broad smile.
In closing, Graves spoke of the president as a man "in whom the statesman is greater than the politician, and the man greater than the president."The allusion brought rounds of cheers
as the president arose to reply.

President's Response.

The president then said:
"I told Governor Terrell I had a kind of ancestral reverence right to hischair because the first revolutionary governor was my great grandfather, Archibald Bulloch, after whom one of my boys is named. No man could meet with such a reception as you have given me today; no man could see you
city, could see your people, could address such an audience as I have addressed and not be a better citizen afterwards."

"Uncle Remus."

"Now I am going to very ill repay the courtesy with which I have been greeted by causing for a minute or two acute discomfort to a man of whom I am very fond—Uncle Remus. Presidents only come and presidents may go, but Uncle Remus stays put. Georgia has done a great many things for the success of union, but she has never done more than when she gave Mr. Joel Chandler Harris to American literature.
I suppose he is one of those literary people who insist that art should have nothing to do with morals and will condemn me as a Philistine for not agreeing with them, but I want to say that one of the great reasons why I like what he has written is because, after reading it I rise up with the purpose of being a better man, a man who is bound to strive to do what is in him for the cause of decency and for the cause of righteousness."

Be Just to Public Men.

The president spoke of the danger in accusing of corruption public men, saying:"So far from asking that you be lenient in your judgment of any public man I hold that you are relevant to your duty if you are lenient. You need not be lenient, but to be just. If you dislike a man's policy say so. If you think he is acting in a way so misguided that he will bring ruin to the state or nation, say so, but do not accuse him of corruption unless you know that he is corrupt. If you have good reason to believe that he is corrupt, then denounce him under any plea of consideration, under any consideration,
to refrain from suiting him with the sword of the Lord and of Gideon."Following the president's address John Temple Graves introduced Governor Heywood of South Carolina as the guest speaker in honor only to the nation's chief. Governor Heywood added his welcome to the South to that already extended by Georgia.

Joined in "Dixie."

During the dinner the band stationed on the veranda played a number of national airs, among others "The Star Spangled Banner." As he recognized the familiar strains the president
sprang to his feet, followed by all present, seemingly forgetful of his surroundings. As "Dixie" broke on the air, he waved his hand in time to the music and joined in the cheers.A reception followed the luncheon which, though brief, afforded the opportunity for several thousand persons to meet the president. The president's technology was visited on the way to the city and here he spoke briefly.
Then came a drive about the city under the escort of the cavalry and the reception committee, the president's train leaving for Jacksonville promptly at 7 o'clock.A feature of most of the celebrations
will be the recital of Kipling's "Recessional."Among the telegrams already received is one from Admiral Dewey who sends a glowing tribute, concluding with the words: "These hundred years have only made his glory brighter."LONDON, Oct. 21.—All this morn-ing's newspapers print memorial services, poems, etc., apropos of the Nelson centenary. The Standard publishes several hitherto unpublished letters of Lord Nelson.

DOINGS IN RAISINS

JAMES ANDERSON SUCCEEDS
ADAM MOWAT.

Payment on Packing Houses the Next Important Matter to Come Up—Goods Going Out Well.

James Anderson was yesterday appointed by Thomas H. Lynch, general manager of the Central California Packing company to succeed the late Adam M. Mowat as chief operator of the seedling department. Anderson is an experienced man and his appointment meets with general satisfaction.

The next matter that will come before the directors of the Growers' company will be the payment for the packing houses. The general agreement between growers and packers provided for the payment for the Co-operative houses.

The growers' and packers' company each pay half. The appraised value, including the Co-operative seedling plant in Fresno amounts to about $100,000. The first payment of 20 per cent is to be made next month.

Then will come the payment of the Commercial plants, at their appraised value. E. R. Smith and Stanley Webster have been engaged for weeks on this appraisement and have finished with the house. The value is estimated, in round figures, that the valuation will be in the neighborhood of $600,000.

The money to make these payments is accumulating from the half cent a pound.

About two-thirds of the crop has now been delivered, or 20,000 tons. The growers have been paid about $25,000 on the 1 cent advance. Vice President Tarpy states that the raisins are going out very satisfactorily now. The crop is short. Notwithstanding the exceptional drying weather, it is somewhat shorter than the estimate. So dry has the weather been that it is almost impossible to handle layers or clusters.

NO MORE FREE RIDES FOR HIM.

Man Injured in Owl Wreck to Be Taken to Home in Los Angeles.

W. M. Knickerbocker, the man who was beating his way on the Owl that was wrecked in the Southern Pacific yards here last Monday, is now able to travel. Yesterday the supervisors agreed to buy him a ticket to his home in Los Angeles.

Knickerbocker's father is an old railroad man and travels on a pass. He carries one arm in a sling, a remembrance of his railroad days. At the present time he is very poor, having sunk what money he had in a store in Los Angeles.

Young Knickerbocker was on his first trip out of home beating his way on a train when he was hurt in the Owl wreck. He says he has beat all the trains he wants to beat. After this he will either walk or pay his fare. In the wreck he was thrown under the overturned tender where he was found by trainmen and rescued. He is still very badly bruised and hardly able to travel, but his father wants to get him home. The boy when hurt said his home was in San Francisco.

Fresno High School Senate

The Fresno High School Senate held its regular weekly meeting last night, and in spite of the many attractions, a good attendance was present. The following debate took place: Resolved, That labor unions are detrimental to the prosperity of the U. S. The affirmative was upheld by Cassell of S. C. and Ross of M. C., while Holden of Ind. and Hamner of Mass. firmly upheld the negative. The question was lost by a vote of 3 to 6. Sutherland of Miss., McCormick of Nev. and Brazill of Utah also spoke on the question. The senate decided to give a mock trial at the next meeting of the student body. Honorary Senator Olney was present and addressed the senate.

PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD HEARD REPORTS OF MISSIONARY ENDEAVOR.

REDLANDS, Oct. 20.—The Presbyterian synod today was very quiet. Last night the home missions addresses were delivered by Rev. Lynn Wright of Fall River, Mass., and Rev. T. J. Thomas of San Francisco. This morning a resolution was passed continuing the support of the synod for prison association work under the direction of Rev. S. E. Linde of Stockton.

The committee on temperance reported to the synod very lax work. Rev. E. E. Chapman of Los Angeles made a stirring address in support of the work of the anti-saloon league. The support of the synod was pledged. Rev. J. S. McIntosh, of San Francisco, and Dr. E. E. Baker, of Oakland, appealed for a series of vigorous evangelization meetings. The result of the three missionaries' Sunday school work made an excellent showing. The synod endorsed the report of Dr. H. H. Walker, a sum of $200,000 endowment for the Centennial college of Los Angeles and pledging a portion of it. This afternoon was spent in sight-seeing and this evening's session was devoted to the foreign missions. Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. H. Laughlin of San Francisco and Dr. Herbert Brown of Mexico.

BRITISH ROYALTIES ARRIVED AT GENOA EN ROUTE TO INDIA.

GENOA, Oct. 20.—The Prince and Princess of Wales, who are journeying to India for a six months' tour, arrived here today and went on board the British battleship Renown. They were given a most cordial reception. The prince telegraphed King Victor Emmanuel, recalling the long friendship uniting the British and Italian royal families and their respective countries. The princess sent a telegram to Queen Helena, expressing regret at learning that her majesty was somewhat indisposed. The prince and princess will sail on the Renown tomorrow morning.

MAMMOTH VESSEL OF HAMBURG AMERICAN LINE ARRIVED AT NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Displacing 1000 tons more water than any other craft afloat, the steamer Amerika, of the Hamburg American line, arrived here today on her maiden voyage across the Atlantic. Despite her displacement of 41,000 tons, the Amerika is not the biggest steamship in the world as the steamer Baltic, of the White Star Line, is longer and wider and of greater tonnage than the new liner. The Amerika, is, however, deeper than the Baltic. The new steamer has a length of 600 feet, a breadth of seventy-four feet and a depth of fifty-three feet.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.

First, soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by all druggists.

CALIFORNIA GEOGRAPHY

Should be studied by every citizen of California. It should be taught to the children, both in the school-room and in the home, as a matter of first importance. One of the easiest ways to learn California Geography is to secure one of the Fresno Republican's New Home Wall Charts. It will give you an excellent topographic relief map of California with statistics on elevations and irrigations. It will also give you a political map of the state of California, showing every county, river, railroad, town and city in the state. It also gives the population of every county, city, town and village, according to the latest government census, and this is not all. It shows you a splendid map of the United States, the Panama canal and history and statistics, it also gives you a special topographic map of Eastern Asia, Japan and the Island of Sakhalin. Also gives you a special map of the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico, and to add to the beauty and usefulness of these charts, we give you in beautiful colors the flags of all nations. These all make a most convenient and useful reference aid to the business man, lawyer, doctor, teacher, or any other intelligent citizen. Every office, library or home should have one of these excellent library wall charts. You can obtain one of these wall charts by subscribing or continuing the paper for six months and paying extra express charge of 20 cents. Any further particulars, address the Wall Chart Dept., Fresno Republican, Fresno, Cal.

CORRUPTION CHARGED AGAINST STATE OFFICIALS IN INSURANCE INQUIRY.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—In the investigation by the grand jury of the old of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company of Minneapolis, payments of money have come to light, it is said, for corrupt purposes. Testimony already placed before the grand jury involves two former state officials, the alleged payment in a room at the Ryan hotel of a $3000 check for the suppression of a report exposing the condition of the company and voluntary contributions of $1000 each to the two Democratic and Republican state central committees. Another state official is connected with receiving $300 in installments of $150 each for Sunday work done in a clerical capacity. As to the campaign contributions they are said to be vouchered for in a confession made by one of the old officers but its receipt is denied in the case of the Democrats.

Today 27-inch Broad Cloth Jacket Suits Full Satin Lined $15.00

Yesterday's express arrivals. They will be shown and on sale today for the first time, you know that broadcloth is a very scarce article just now. There is a scarcity of it in the market owing to its unusual popularity this season. It's never shown in suits at less than $20.00, but while our Mr. Cahn was in New York he was fortunate to find one man who would make them up so we could sell them at $15.00. They are made of really good grade broadcloth, black, navy and brown, 27 inch jackets, tight fitted sides and backs, fly fronts, 14 straps in back, 4 in front, big sleeves, tailor collar, lined clear through with excellent quality satin, turned back cuffs, sleeves are tucked and box pleated near cuffs, 11 gored pleated skirts.

Suits at $20, $25, $30, $35 and as high as you wish to go that are absolutely without at equal in style and price

Folks tell us that every day. The number of people who come here first and then go out to look elsewhere and finally return and purchase from us is the best evidence of it. We are showing the largest and most varied assortment to be found in Fresno embracing every new cloth, every new shape and design. There are some splendid garments at $20.00 the suit, in mixtures and herringbone chevrons, real French broadcloths, at $25.00 that are beautifully made and lined. Then the real fancy smart suits and the swaggar long jacket suits in great variety.

White Waists Embroidered Fronts, $1.25 All Over Lace Waists, Silk Lined, $5.00

Two specials from the waist section. The white waists are of firm white washable material, new for fall and winter, with handsome embroidered fronts, in some swell patterns, big sleeves, new cuffs, waists that will wash well. The lace waists are of all over lace, pretty fine designs, trimmed so as to produce round yoke effect, very full sleeves. They are excellent $7.50 values. We place them on sale special while they last, $5.00.

The New Corset Coats Arrived, $13.50

This will be welcome news, for many have been waiting for them for some time. They are the jaunty corset fitting coats made of splendid double twisted covert, satin lined. They have thirty-four straps, collarless, prettily stitched at neck, coat sleeves strapped also close to cuffs.

FRIENDS OF THE INDIANS PLEAD FOR STATEHOOD FOR INDIAN TERRITORY

LAKE MOHONK, N. Y., Oct. 20.—The needs of the people in Porto Rico were considered at the first session of today's conference of the Friends of the Indians and Other Dependent Peoples. Addresses were delivered by Dr. Samuel Lindsay, professor of sociology in the University of Pennsylvania; Dr. Roland J. Faulkner and Dr. Jacob E. Hollander, professor of political economy at Johns Hopkins University.

Dr. G. L. Spinning of Orange, N. J., reported on the starving condition of the Pima Indians, which the government has taken steps to remedy. Dr. Grant Evans of Indian Territory, and Miss Anna Daws of Pittsfield, Mass., pleaded for righteousness for the people of the Indian Territory, insisting that the government should keep its pledge with the Indians living there and give them a separate state rather than join them with their neighbors in Oklahoma.

AUSTRALIAN HORSEMAN ASSAULTED BY ANDREWS FREED FROM SUSPICION

BERKELEY, Oct. 20.—William Ellis, the Australian turfman, who recently was the victim of a murderous assault, has recovered sufficiently from the effects of the operation on his fractured skull to be given the freedom of the Roseville hospital. Ellis has been informed by Chief of Police Vollmer that no suspicion rests upon him and that he is at liberty to leave the hospital whenever he pleases. He says he will return to Australia as soon as possible.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—There is to be an official investigation into the charges of Clay Huchucker, president of the Oakland baseball club, against H. M. Schmidt, the late pitcher of the club, who was released last Tuesday, accusing him of throwing games. The inquiry will be made at the request of Schmidt, who today addressed a letter to Eugene Bert, president of the league.

TALK NO. 82 DISCOURAGED

About a month ago a gentleman came into our office and said that he was discouraged. He had been trying at least half a dozen specialists but could not get glasses that would do him any good. He had about given up but thought he would try just once more and so he had come to see what we could do. We tried him with glasses that he could see easily and clearly with. They are perfectly satisfactory in every way. He is delighted and is doing us a great deal of good.

Somehow we always like to have the discouraged people come in. We like to work on cases that are quite little time and skill to fit correctly. We like it when we can satisfy a patient when the "other fellows" have failed.

If you have bad eyes or your glasses are not just right come in and see us about it, we do not charge for consultation.

SHIPPERS MUST USE ARMOUR CARS OR BE BARRED BY RAILROADS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The existence of exclusive contracts between railroads and private car lines by which the latter assume the business of refrigerating perishable freight, was brought sharply today in the hearings now in progress before the interstate commerce commission. It was developed by the testimony of H. M. Emerson, traffic manager of the Atlantic coast line, that the shippers could be compelled, under the contract with the Armour car lines, to use cars of this company exclusively or the railroad would not transport their freight. At the same time, he said, the schedule of the road would permit the use of other private cars and the apparent inconsistency is a matter that the legal department of the road would have to solve if brought into controversy. Officials of the Central of Georgia, the Southern and the Seaboard Air lines, testified that the Armour car lines have exclusive contracts with their roads to handle all refrigerator business.

SUPPOSED MURDERER HE RETURNED HOME AND BENEFICIARY ORDER LOSES.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 20.—The return of William Ehrenfeld of Whiting, Kan., to his home, as reported in a special to the Telegraph of this city, destroys the theory that he was murdered three years ago. His parents, who reside here, went to Durango, Col., upon the discovery of the decomposed remains of the body of a man there three years ago and expressed the belief that the remains were those of their son. A fraternal insurance organization of which the missing man was a member in good standing, paid a claim in the case.

FAST MAIL TRAIN WRECKED IN KANSAS INJURING THE CREW.

PAOLA, Kan., Oct. 20.—The fast mail train from Colorado on the Missouri Pacific railway, running as a double header, was wrecked a few miles east of Paola last night, two mail cars exploded, two baggage cars leaving the track, but remaining upright. J. R. Kohlmeier, engineer, Paola, Kan.; Charles Teeter, engineer, Paola; Ora Tyler, fireman, Ossawatimie, Kan.; and James Byron, fireman, Ossawatimie, were injured, but all will recover. None of the passengers were hurt.

ENGLISH BOXER PROTESTED DECISION OF BOSTON REFEREE.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Jimmy Walsh, of Newton, was given a decision over Peter Stanley, of London, Eng., tonight at the conclusion of a fifteen round contest before the Douglas Athletic club, Chelsea. During the early part of the match Stanley did most of the offensive work, but the American boxer seemed to be in better condition at the end. Stanley filed a protest when Eugene Buckley announced his decision, claiming that he had fairly out-pointed Walsh. The winner of tonight's contest will probably meet Frankie Neil, of San Francisco, the American bantam weight champion.

DOUBLE SHOOTING IN SAN FRANCISCO WRAP IN MYSTER.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A woman named Mrs. Lillian Nessler, otherwise known as Lillian Daly, was shot and killed tonight by an unknown man in a rooming house at 336 Eddy street. After firing two shots at the woman the man turned the pistol on himself and blew his brains out. So far he has not been identified. The woman is a well known frequenter of music halls. She was married some time ago to Nessler, but left him subsequently, when he lost both arms in an elevator accident, and assumed the name of Daly. The police are looking for a woman named Trice, who it is said, was present during the occurrence, but who fled when the shots were fired.

SUPREME COURT MADE A RULING AGAINST RUEF PARTY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The supreme court at Los Angeles today granted a writ restraining the election of commissioners from putting the Schmitt ticket on the voting machines under "Independent" designations. The writ also provides that the Republican ticket shall come first, the Democratic ticket second, the Socialist ticket third, and the Union labor ticket fourth. The writ is returnable in this city next Thursday.

Might Have Been Drunk

George W. Whitehead, appraiser of merchandise at the port of New York, was visited by a young Bermudian the other day.

The Bermudian knew a man who would reach New York on an Atlantic liner in a few days, and this man, he claimed, was going to smuggle in much valuable merchandise.

But, questioned as to his reason for this suspicion, the Bermudian had none but ludicrous, impossible ones to give. It seemed that he was either a crank or an enemy of the incoming travelers.

Mr. Whitehead said: "The reasons you give are not at all conclusive. They don't point in the slightest way to any dishonest intention on your friend's part. To hold that they did would be to act as foolishly as the Southern cook."

Mr. Whitehead asked and went on: "The first cook said he was trying to smuggle her mistress said: 'No, no you know that policeman friend, yours?'

"Yes," said Martha.

"Well, I saw him conducting himself very strangely today. He stood for the longest time with his arm around a lamp post."

"Martha blushed.

"Yes," she simpered. "He always acts that way when he's thinking of me."

Three little girls in Harlem were one day discussing about the baby brothers that had taken up their residence with their respective families during the year.

Said the first little girl: "My brother Tom's got the beautiful silver cup that godfather gave him."

"Oh," exclaimed the second little girl, "that's nothing. My brother Willie's got the most expensive go-cart that ever was."

"Well," said the third girl, "my brother Eddie ain't half so big, maybe, as your brothers. But," she added, with ill concealed triumph, "the doctor says he's had more fits than any other baby in the neighborhood!" — Harper's

Married Women

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

RAILROAD REGULATION.

The latest document in the railroad "campaign of education" says, on behalf of the railroads: "They have no quarrel with the idea of regulation to prevent abuses; but they insist that the initiative in respect to the making of rates should be left with the roads, who necessarily know and appreciate the conditions to be met better than an outsider could possibly understand them."

This is exactly what is proposed by what has come to be known as the "Roosevelt policy." Nobody has suggested that the interstate commerce commission, or any other public body, shall take the initiative in respect to the making of rates. It is agreed that the railroads shall make their own schedules, as now, and that these rates shall stand unless somebody makes a complaint of them. But if complaint is made, and the commission finds on examination that any particular rate is unjust, the commission is to have the authority to determine what other rate, in this instance, is just, and to compel the acceptance of that rate pending final decision, on appeal, by the courts.

The statement is also made that the commission already has power enough, and, in support of this contention, the curious argument is made that the commission has succeeded in changing only two rates in the whole seventeen years of its existence, and these two only after a long struggle to the courts of last resort. Since it is quite unthinkable that only these two unjust rates were changed in seventeen years, it follows that regulation, such as the present law provides, does not regulate.

Still a third argument is that, because there is now a car famine, and shippers in many cases would be glad to pay more than the tariff rates for preference in the use of cars, it therefore follows that regulations are not necessary. It is of course true that the country is prosperous, and that the railroads have more business than they can handle. But it does not follow that an institution in a position to charge all it pleases is going to be more magnanimous than one which must take what it can get. All human experience is to the contrary. The more powerful it is, the more it needs regulating.

In conclusion, and quite incidentally, it may be stated that the editorial on the railroad slide, printed in yesterday's Democrat, was, so far as we know, written in the Democrat office, and not, as usual, reprinted verbatim from a railroad press-bureau circular.

CRITICIZING PUBLIC MEN.

The American habit of "roasting" public men has often been held up to reproach as one of the principal obstacles to getting the right sort of men to take public office. When the roasting is reckless or unjust, as it often is, the complaint is justified. But by far the larger part of the complaint comes from men who do not want justice, whose chief fear is that they will get justice, and who object to the newspapers because their exposures can not be evaded by the technical wriggles that so often go in court.

President Roosevelt put it well yesterday, when he said: "So far from asking that you be lenient in your judgment of any public man, I hold that you are recreant to your duty if you are lenient. You need not be lenient, but do be just. If you dislike a man's policy, say so. If you think he is acting in a way so misguided that he will bring ruin to the state, say so; but do not accuse him of corruption unless you know that he is corrupt. If you have good reason to believe that he is corrupt, then refuse under any plea of party expediency, under any consideration, to refrain from suiting him with the sword of the Lord, and of Gideon."

In other words, make no reckless charges; refrain from personal abuse in opposing those of differing policies; if the difference is only one of policy; but if a man is disloyal, say so; if he is corrupt, say so; if he belongs to your own party, do not therefore defend him. Let corruption of all kinds be exposed and condemned.

Not all newspapers or other organs of public opinion come up to this high standard of conservative self-restraint in matters of policy and courageous exposure in matters of right and wrong. But public men will find it the wisest policy to deal in all things as if all newspapers were of this sort. For the public man need not fear the exposure nor covet the praise of a venal or reckless newspaper. Such papers defeat their own ends and destroy their own influence. Neither dare the public man ignore the publicity which an honest newspaper can give to his deeds of good and evil. Some newspapers are bad, and none are perfect, but the net result, so far as influence is concerned, is practically the same as if all were good. The test neutralizes each other. The public man who has the support of those newspapers whose support can be honestly got, need not fear the others. The one who can not get this support is only deceiving himself if he finds consolation in the hired or bulldozed protection of the others.

STOCKTON AND FRESNO FIGURES.

A week or so ago, the Stockton Independent printed an absurd argument trying to show that Stockton is in advance of Fresno, commercially, because, forsooth, there is more idle money in the banks of Stockton than in Fresno. The Republican replied, showing that by other barometers than bank deposits—newspapers, hotels, stores, theatres, schools and general enterprise—Fresno is far ahead. Now come the actual figures, to illustrate further. The annual statement of Controller Colgan, just received giving the value of property, indebtedness, and revenues of each county, shows that in every single item, save only that of idle money, Fresno county surpasses San Joaquin county. The total value of real estate is: Fresno, $22,062,670; San Joaquin, $21,502,296. Improvements on real estate, Fresno, $7,704,117; San Joaquin, $7,597,833. Personal property, Fresno, $4,805,333; San Joaquin, $4,162,267. Value of railroads, Fresno, $3,836,267; San Joaquin, $2,770,078. Total of all property, Fresno, $38,640,483; San Joaquin, $38,942,107. Mortgages, Fresno, $5,459,232; San Joaquin, $3,307,071. County debt, Fresno, none; San Joaquin, $34,000. Tax rate, Fresno, 1.50-1.80; San Joaquin, 1.25-1.65.

Some of these figures, like those of mortgages, and tax rate, might be considered as advantages or disadvantages. But even mortgages are also investments, and the tax rate produces the county revenue. But, at any rate, every figure in the controller's report, save only that of idle money, is larger for Fresno than for Stockton.

CASHIER CLARKE LEFT CONFESSION

PITTSBURG BANK FAILURE MAY BE MORE SENSATIONAL

Dead Official Was Involved in Many Financial Deals With Prominent Politicians.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 20.—As the investigation into the affairs of the Enterprise National bank proceeds it shows that Cashier Clarke, who committed suicide, was interested in many corporations and that his associates were prominent men. Startling revelations are being made as to the manner in which the dead cashier managed the monies of the bank. Some of the directors, on the strength of what has been discovered, intimate that Clarke was a defaulter to a large amount.

It is believed that President Frederick Gwynner and the wealthier men of the bank's directorate will make some effort to get control of the Santa Fe Central railway and the Pennsylvania Development company, which concerns are so much involved in the bank's affairs. By doing this as individuals the directors may hope to save themselves, if they are compelled to make good to the state the shortage in the funds. It is further said that the directors will lose nothing.

Funeral services over the body of the late cashier were held this afternoon at the family residence. Only immediate relatives were in attendance.

It was reported today that among the private papers of Clarke, the dead cashier, is a complete confession of the operations which brought about his ruin and the closing of the bank. This confession, it is said, narrates minutely all the steps and proceedings attending the securing of the bank's funds and how the loans were made, together with the names of the politicians concerned. The paper is said to have been found in the vault of the bank and is said to be now in the hands of the bank examiner, Cunningham, temporary receiver.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20.—United States Senator Bruce Penrose tonight denied emphatically the rumors connecting him with the loans from the bank. Senator Penrose's statement follows:

"I have no obligations of any kind in the Enterprise National bank. I am not connected in any way, directly or indirectly, with notes of W. H. Andrews, if there are any such in the Enterprise National bank. I have no interest whatever in the Pennsylvania Development company, or with any other project in New Mexico. Any intimations to the contrary are malicious falsehoods for political effect."

KISSING REALLY HEALTHY.

Interchange of Osculatory Microbes Good for the Digestion.

With feelings of unmitigated joy we chronicle the fact that a distinguished French physician has gone against his colleagues and actually stood up for kissing. He is said to have minutely all the steps and proceedings attending the securing of the bank's funds and how the loans were made, together with the names of the politicians concerned. The paper is said to have been found in the vault of the bank and is said to be now in the hands of the bank examiner, Cunningham, temporary receiver.

As She Interpreted Scripture.

A New England lady recently lectured in Georgia, and was not familiar with the Southern custom of speaking of the afternoon "evening."

One morning when she was away from home, an old friend who was passing through the city called, and on her return the old negro servant told her of the gentleman's visit, and said that he would call again in the "evening."

In the afternoon she left the house again, and when she came home great was her disappointment to find a note from her friend expressing his regret at not seeing her, as he was leaving the city that day.

Innocent at the mistake, she called the servant.

"How is this, Phoebe?" she demanded. "I thought you told me this gentleman said he would call this evening."

"Yes," he said.

"But he couldn't have said so for he came this afternoon."

"Law, Mis' Liza," she said, "de Bible don't say nuthin' 'bout 'afternoon'; it jes' say, 'de mornin' and de evenin';' was de fust day."

KEEPS VIGIL ON VESUVIUS.

Watchman Who Gives Warning When Volcano is About to Burst.

It is by no means generally known that the far-famed volcano, so familiar to every visitor at the bay of Naples, has a "guardian" specially appointed by the Italian government in the person of Prof. Luigi Mateucci. That this well known scientist's services are of importance will be realized on reflecting how uncomfortable it is, to say the least, to have a 4000-foot burning mountain in the very center of a teeming population and a rich and fertile province. Very few of the ordinary tourists who ascend to the crater of Vesuvius by the funicular railway meet the professor. He lives in the observatory all among the deep ashes and cinders, about 1000 feet below the place where the reeking sulphur clouds sweep up from the dread depths.

Prof. Mateucci is just now very much in evidence, owing to the new international movement for the excavation of Herculaneum, which expert archaeologists say will yield much larger finds than Pompeii in the way of bronzes, statuary, mosaics, implements, etc.

"Herculaneum," Prof. Mateucci pointed out to the writer, "was buried much deeper than Pompeii by the efflux of ashes and scoria from the volcano, and I am certain the city will be found in amazingly perfect preservation. You must remember, too, that Herculaneum was a much more popular resort with the Roman aristocracy than her sister city."

The professor produced from a corner the albums in which he keeps the very striking photographs he takes recording the various eruptions. Suddenly I noticed one that impressed me as a bright and sharp silver print, showing Mateucci leaning against a mountainous mass of rock.

"That," said this wonderful man, "was thrown nearly one thousand feet from a temporary crater one morning, and fell within seven feet of me."

"How much does it weigh?" I asked.

"About thirty-seven tons," was the quiet reply.

No, it can not be cheerful to "live on a volcano." You remember this is a metaphorical expression, but in the case of Prof. Mateucci it is literally accurate. One of his principal duties is to give warning of dangerous eruptions to the villages round about; not to mention the proprietors of vineyards and farms. He also reports by wire direct to Rome, and also has a special service for the Societa degli Albergatori, or Association of Italian Hotelkeepers.

This body is charged with looking after the interests of tourists throughout Italy, from Genoa to Sicily, and is always interested in a big eruption of Vesuvius, particularly if it is likely to be long continued. In such an event—which Prof. Mateucci's long and varied experience of the mountain easily enables him to determine—travelers flock into Italy from all parts, especially well-to-do Americans, who will even come from as far as the Italian lakes, Switzerland, the Riviera, and even London.

It is not too much to say that Mateucci is the "physician" of this dangerous giant. He can diagnose every rumble and eruption of his patient, and knows exactly what warning to send out if the volcano bids fair to become violent. His seismographic instruments are almost incredibly sensitive, and he spends whole hours on the very brink of the various craters listening and watching for signs. He foresees which way the lava streams will flow and whether there is likely to be any considerable emissions of rock masses, some of which are hurled a mile high.—London Globe.

"Tainted Money."

S. S. Breese Stevens, treasurer of the Burton Holches "Truologies," tells of an old colored minister who heard preach in Richmond, Va., about the time the great hue and cry was raised in the North over "tainted money."

"There was a large revival meeting going on at one of the colored churches and Mr. Stevens got there just in time to hear part of the worthy colored clergyman's discourse on 'tainted money.' It was something like this:

"Brethren and sisters, w'en yo' stops ter kinder de millions and millions and millions dis yere man owns and inspects dis yere millions alongside his gifts, de inspection an' powerful queer. Now, it haint fo' me to enquire what de money comes from dat each member of my flock drops in de plate, on I don't Zackly see why fo' my colleagues up North ask questions—de oldest taint I bin able ter dis-ker 'bout dis yere 'tainted money,' is 'taint nuff.'"

The Real Lady.

Dr. Sophronia Fletcher of Cambridge is hale and active at the age of ninety-one.

In a criticism of a somewhat emotional and bombastic character, Dr. Fletcher said the other day:

"This gentleman reminds me of a friend of mine, a woman now dead these many years.

"The woman, with a tragic air, rushed upstairs one day, and cried to her maid:

"Celeste, put my curling iron in the fire at once, James has been bitten by a mad dog."

"Ah, brave madame!" said Celeste. Madame is going to eutherize the wound!"

"No," said the lady. "But I am going to curl my hair so I can run for the doctor!"

It Was His Message.

"I've seen some queer mistakes made by telegraph operators in my time," said Jack Mulvey, chief clerk at the Hotel Baltimore, "but Saturday one turned up that disconcerted them all. We had a man named W. H. Andrews staying here, and he was looking for a telegram. More than a dozen times Saturday he asked, here at the desk, for his message, but he had seen nothing for him. About six o'clock that evening he came back again and began looking through the telegrams here. Suddenly he turned to me, and said:

"Malloy, I'll bet that's my message. What do you think about it?"

"I looked at the address on a telegram he handed me. It read:

"W. H. & News. It was his message."—Kansas City Times.

WOMEN SINGERS IN EUROPE.

Insanity of a German Soprano—Successful Americans.

Marie Schreuder-Haustaege, who is well known in America, has just been sent to an insane asylum in Frankfurt. The soprano had been for some years a member of the company there and sang the dramatic roles, with the exception of the heavier Wagner parts.

After her retirement, about seven years ago, Mrs. Haustaege began to teach. She was better prepared for this career than the majority of German singers.

Her case has attracted attention to other women of the operatic stage who have recently lost their minds. Fanny Moran-Union, who died a year ago, was mad some time before her death, and Hedwig Niemann-Rabe had spent a long time in an institution for the treatment of nervous and mental diseases.

Mrs. Haustaege's career had always been prosperous and quiet enough, which was in marked contrast to the misfortunes of Fanny Moran-Union.

It was, curiously enough, Anton Seidl who first told American opera-goers about Maria Morena. "He heard her at Munich during the first year of her career and named her as a possible member of the German opera company that he proposed once to form. Mile. Morena has grown to greater fame since that time and Milka Ternina has said that no other singer in Germany is so well able to assume the roles that she has evidently given up forever.

Geraldine Farrar is at last to sing before her own people, although she is to remain for another year at the Royal Opera House in Berlin. Then her contract expires.

It will have been a profitable one for her, as her labors carry with them a life pension. So great has her success at the Berlin Opera House been that the direction has allowed her a three years' pension, which ordinarily accompanies only twenty years of service.

It is remarkable for so young a woman to have earned this reward, but it is quite true that women so gifted and so beautiful are not often found in any German opera houses, and the American soprano had the most cordial support, even if she did occasionally have rows with the newspapers, especially when they insisted that the crown prince was devoted to her.

Miss Farrar always attributed the hostility of the critics to the jealousy of her colleagues, who resented the success of a foreigner. It is one of the rules of the theater that nobody should be allowed on the stage with the performers. Miss Farrar, who had no mind, resented permission from the intendant to have her mother with her. The other singers resented this partiality, and Miss Farrar says, have never forgiven her.

Yvonne de Troville is another young prima donna of American opera who finds her services very much in demand. She studied for a year after going abroad and since her reappearance in Europe has sung in most of the large continental cities, and always with success.

Eleanora de Cisneros is still another American who is in the first rank of singers over in Europe. She is to be the contralto of the Italian season, to begin next month in London.

Nellie Melba is going to sing there, too, and then give a concert tour before she comes to this country to take her long rest in California. She will also give a few concerts here. The Australian soprano is going to let her London house for a while, but says she is not engaged to marry Sir Richard Nevill whom she met in Australia, where he was attached to the lieutenant-governor's staff.

Emma Novak is one of the prima donnas who have begun to take pupils, and she expresses great confidence in the success of one of them. This is an American girl who will soon be ready to sing in public.

CABLES FROM RUSSIA INDICATE CONTINUANCE OF LABOR TROUBLES

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—A group of international financiers began conferences today with Finance Minister Kokovsov regarding the contemplated new loan. If the negotiations are successful, the issuance of the loan is expected to take place in the early days of November. G. W. Perkins and J. Pierpont Morgan Jr. arrived here during the afternoon. Their first audience of Minister of Finance Kokovsov will be arranged probably tomorrow by the American embassy.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—Owing largely to the banishment of his eldest son, Grand Duke Cyril, and also on account of failing health, the Grand Duke Vladimir, eldest uncle of Emperor Nicholas, has tendered his resignation as commander of the military district of St. Petersburg, and his resignation has been accepted. He will be succeeded by Lieutenant General Gripenberg.

ODESSA, Oct. 20.—The governor today issued an order to the police instructing them that in the event of disturbances they are to fire directly into the mobs without any preliminary volleys in the air. This order, it is stated, will have a deterrent effect on proposed gatherings for the purpose of disorder.

MINSK, Russia, Oct. 20.—A meeting of the members of the revolutionary party, held in a Jewish school here yesterday for the purpose of discussing the candidate for the national assembly, was dispersed by Cossacks and police. Workmen in retaliation attacked the Cossacks with sticks and in the conflict a hundred persons were slightly and twenty severely injured. Demonstrations in the streets continued.

MOSCOW, Oct. 20.—The employees of the Moscow and Kazan railroad struck today and traffic on the road is interrupted. The strikers induced a stoppage of work on the Yaroslavl and Archangel railroad and attempted to hold a meeting in the streets, but were dispersed by Cossacks and police. The engineers on the Moscow and St. Petersburg railroad struck tonight. Railroad employees have issued a call for a general strike.

Phelan's Berkeley Benefaction. BERKELEY, Oct. 20.—James D. Phelan, a former mayor of San Francisco, has provided for four lectures at the University of California by the distinguished president of the Gaelic League, Dr. Douglas Hyde of Dublin. Dr. Hyde will lecture at several Eastern universities during December and January and will arrive in California in February, when the university lectures will be given.

Professional Nurse a Thief. NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Hilda Austin, a professional nurse, was arrested last night charged with stealing silverware and other valuable articles from the Hotel St. Regis where she had been employed since early in September. In her room were found several thousand dollars worth of silverware, cut glass, china, jewelry, jewel cases, bric-a-brac and many other articles.

CHESTER DOYLE AND OSCAR VAN DUSEN THE TARGETS.

Bullets Whizzed Close to Them and Killed Their Pack Horse—Ownership of Copper Mine Involved.

VISALIA, Oct. 26.—Particulars of a shooting affray which occurred in the mountains above Springville on the 10th instant were brought to the district attorney's office this afternoon by J. J. Doyle, of that place. Three shots were fired from ambush at two miners, and a pack horse belonging to them was killed. It appears that Doyle in 1904 located a copper claim several miles above Springville and has not yet completed his assessment work. Recently a fellow named Alf Powell made claim to the mine, alleging that the title of Doyle was not valid and that he intended proving the claim for his own use. On the 10th instant Chester Doyle, a son of the latter, and Oscar Van Dusen went to the mine to do assessment work. When near the place they struck camp and started to remove the packs from the animals. They were started by a shot and a bullet struck a tree over their heads. They were then hailed by some invisible person, who commanded them to move on and not attempt to visit the mine. They paid no attention when a second shot was fired. It passed through Van Dusen's leg and under the horse and near young Doyle, who was on the opposite side of the animal. A third shot was fired just as Van Dusen had stooped over to pick something from the ground. The bullet passed close to his back and struck the horse. The animal was led down the road, but died soon after. Young Doyle claims that he recognized the voice that hailed them at Powell's but no person was to be seen.

No warrant has as yet been sworn out and what action will be taken is not yet stated.

The felony charge lodged against W. A. Stephens of Fresno and Thomas Hall, accused of assaulting a Chinaman in this city recently with intent to commit robbery, was dismissed this morning and one of simple assault substituted. Both pleaded guilty to the latter charge and were fined $25 each by Justice Clark, which they paid. The evidence was deemed insufficient by the district attorney and his associate, N. O. Bradley, to warrant a trial in case the two were held to answer.

Mrs. J. H. Butler, her sister, Miss Ruddle, and her brother, Geoffrey Ruddle, arrived here yesterday evening from England, where they had been visiting for six months. They were passengers on the Campania, which was struck by a tidal wave on voyage and five passengers swept away and drowned. A trunk full of fine hats and other articles belonging to them was ruined by the water.

Training rules have been adopted for the football squad at the High school. Smoking, the use of alcoholic drinks and staying out after 10 o'clock at night have been tabooed.

At the meeting of Visalia Arrie of Eagles last night twelve applications for membership were received. Arrangements are being made for the class initiation to be held on November 2nd, also for the grand ball to be given at the Armory on Thanksgiving night. The committee in charge of the latter affair is composed of S. J. Scott, chairman; J. W. Hill, A. G. Pennebaker, George Birkhauser and H. E. Riley.

Mrs. Berry, wife of J. M. Berry of the Santa Fe depot, has returned from a visit at Auburn. She was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. O. E. Edwards. Mark Bradley, county recorder of Santa Barbara county, is here and with Mrs. Bradley, who has been visiting in Visalia for several days is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Parish at the Balcenies.

SELMA HAPPENINGS.

Many Citizens Received Burns at Packing House Fire.

SELMA, Oct. 26.—The owners of the packing house fire are still snafolding and tons and tons of baked raisins are in sight. There is also an immense pile of partially burned wheat and barley. The insurance adjusters have not yet arrived, although they were expected here this afternoon. Since the excitement of the fire is over it has been ascertained that a great many citizens who were fighting the flames received burns. The heat was so intense that persons seventy-five feet from the packing house were blistered about the hands and face. John Woods was severely burned about the face, neck and hands. The two little Byrnes children who were scorched are getting along nicely.

A football game between Selma and Hanford is scheduled for the 31st of next month and as it will be the first game of the season much interest will be taken in the contest. Fifteen men have gone into training to try out for positions on the Selma team. The boys have elected Lohman Price as captain and as he is one of the old-time "invincibles" his selection is a strong one. The team will practice again on Monday morning and the buskins will be put through their work two or three times a week hereafter. A number of the boys were overhauled at the fire yesterday and practice was not indulged in last evening on this account.

Deputy United States Marshal L. P. Timmins and Deputy Sheriff W. J. Pickett were in town on official business yesterday.

Attorney George B. Graham was a visitor from Fresno this morning. Constable Joe Price came over from Sanger yesterday on official business.

Daily News Budget From Neighboring Town.

MADERA, Oct. 26.—Y. Frugali, keeper of the Europa hotel, yesterday swore to a complaint charging a colored man named Robert G. Benfield with attempted to defraud an innkeeper. Benfield boarded at the Europa hotel and was indebted to that hostelry in the sum of $19.25. As Benfield had quit work and was spending his money freely in purchases of wet goods, Frugali became alarmed and swore to a complaint. Benfield appeared before Justice of the Peace Barcroft and when informed of the charge pleaded not guilty. The court has not yet set the case.

The trial of Dan Sivils, on a charge of grand larceny, began yesterday in Judge Conley's court. R. E. Rhodes represented the district attorney and C. G. Gouther the defendant. Sivils is accused of having stolen a horse belonging to Jim Jones. Eleven jurors were secured when the panel was exhausted and a new venire was issued. The following named are the jurors selected: W. A. Gordon, A. Lusk, J. C. Stramba, G. C. Hopkins, D. F. Edwards, L. H. Service, A. Stephens, A. A. McCumber, W. H. Cardwell, Lee Wren, J. H. Bates.

The student body of the Madera Union High school met yesterday afternoon to elect the staff of the annual High school paper, "Purple and White." The following named were elected: Editor, Cornelius Applegate; associate editors, Ella Ransom, Irene Bryan and Roy Hall. The students are enthusiastic and aim at making the coming annual the best ever issued.

Madera Camp No. 161, Woodmen of the World, has just received two silver cups as a prize for getting members during the last campaign. Madera camp ranked near the top of the camps that increased membership by good work.

S. P. FREIGHT MEETS WITH ACCIDENT IN YARD.

Marshall Timmins Serves Injunction Papers on Street Paving Company—Phone to Corcoran.

HANFORD, Oct. 26.—While an east-bound freight was passing through the S. P. local yards this morning it broke in two, and one of the cars jumped the track. It was placed back on some extent. It was placed back on the rails, then sidetracked and after a thirty minutes' delay the train proceeded on its way.

Deputy United States Marshal Timmins of Fresno served papers today on Mayor Widmer and Street Superintendent Leggett, in the suit brought against them by the Barbour Asphalt Co. The purpose of the suit is to enjoin the Worswick Paving Co. from proceeding with the work of paving Dooty street. The Pacific Coast Oil Co. is making arrangements to connect its branch office in Hanford with the pumping station in Corcoran, by a private telephone and telegraph wire, which improvement will give the Hanford office a connection anywhere on the pipe line between Bakersfield and San Francisco.

Joe Narango was arrested this morning by Sheriff Buckner and Marshal Frederick, it being suspected that he is connected with the burglary at Sharp's store a few nights ago. A knife similar to those stolen from Sharp's, was known to be in his possession. He will be held for further investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dopkins, who have been traveling in Europe, are now in Nevada, on their way home. They are expected to arrive in Hanford tomorrow.

Mrs. W. A. Sprague and son Ralph of Gerard, Kansas, arrived in Hanford this morning and continuing their journey to Lemoore, will spend the winter with W. S. Winger, who is Mrs. Sprague's brother.

J. Wesley Tilton, director of the Hanford land, who was engaged to play in the Tulare land during fair week, spent last evening at home in this city.

Mrs. Kate Vance arrived home last evening from Agnew, where she attended the funeral of her husband, A. Vance.

A well dressed young man was spotted in Hanford this morning by the officers, while soliciting money from the business men, claiming he needed help for his family. He was told to get out of town.

In Every Corporation there is one man who has the power of decision. He may be the president of the company and he may not, but if he is the decisive man, he is the real president, no matter what office he holds.

Successful solicitors are men who are able to find and get at the man whose word decides the giving out of contracts.

What is true of corporations is true of homes. In every household, in every family circle, there is one who decides the important home questions—what the family shall eat, what it shall wear, where it shall go to spend its summer vacation, whether it shall buy a piano and what piano, and so on through the entire list of human wants.

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the member of the family circle who has the deciding vote is the wife and mother.

In the case of one million homes, and a selected lot of homes at that, the woman who decides is reached and influenced by THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

The million women who subscribe to and pay for THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL probably control every year a bigger expenditure in a greater number of lines than any other one body of people, however selected.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL has the confidence of these women, and that confidence is extended to the advertising it carries, and justly so, because The Curtis Publishing Company is responsible for the character of the advertising it admits to the columns of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL.

CHRISTIAN CITIZENSHIP

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION DISCUSSED PUBLIC LIFE AT LAST NIGHT'S SESSION—PRESIDENT REVIEWS WORK OF YEAR—WOMEN TO OCCUPY FRESNO PULPITS TOMORROW.

The Y. M. C. A. building was as busy as a beehive yesterday with the opening meeting of the state Women's Christian Temperance union convention. Women by the hundreds thronged in and out and the buzz of many voices showed that there were many topics for conference over.

The event of the business program was the president's annual address and the reports of officers showing good work for the year. After the conclusion of the program in the afternoon.

Mrs. E. R. Miller, Mendocino County

All the delegates marched in a body down to the Chamber of Commerce building, where they spent half an hour in examining exhibits, registering their names and sipping of a fruit punch in which there was no more than a toothpick floating. Secretary Stanfield and his assistants were busy explaining many of the features of Fresno county products.

The company then took places upon electric cars for a ride out the Sunny-side line east of town, which concluded the day.

Morning Session.

The devotional exercises of the morning were conducted by Mrs. Mary Fletcher Norwood of Fresno. The convention was then called to order, and the delegates assigned regular places by the secretary. Appointment of committees was followed by the annual reports of officers.

All the officers were present except the auditor, Mrs. Blanche English. Mrs. D. J. Spencer, recording secretary, reported the work of the executive committee during the past year. The treasurer, Mrs. Emily Hopkin reported the handling of money during the year amounting to over $250.

Mrs. Eva L. Gilchrist made her report as state superintendent of the Sunday school department.

The President's Address.

Mrs. Stuart Post's annual address was the principal paper of the afternoon. A careful resume of the year's work.

It was as follows: "Dear Comrades—As I have anticipated the duties and pleasures of this meeting and mentally pictured the sweet, earnest faces that would be before me at this moment, my ear turned to catch their wireless message from the master. 'By their fruits ye shall know them.'

The quality of mind and heart is best expressed in the things we do and the sacrifices we make for a principle and purpose. Your presence at this convention is an earnest of your purpose, your prayers and your pledges.

The things our organization would do and what it has already done are its only testimonials of your motive and right methods. Our prayers have always been for the kingdom come on earth as it is in heaven. We have worked as we have prayed and could we have had justice, we would have voted as we have prayed.

No Tainted Money.

But we have never been a full-fledged privileged class of reformers. Such prayers as we have made, has been against the toughest head winds of opposition: against rank selfishness and greed, tempted by the power of money. No Morgans or Rockefellers have replenished our treasuries with honestly made or tainted coin. So we are entitled to full credit for all results written over against our name. And they are legion. This influence of the white ribbon has changed the character of public events and qualified the nature of state and national legislation and best of all, no state or ordinance enacted by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has ever proved an injury or dangerous to the public weal.

No Compromises.

What ever the result of our labors, whether it be failure or success, the one thing we have most to feel proud of in all our efforts in reform, is our unwavering faith in principle. We have striven to possess vantage ground and to withhold it from the enemy, without indemnity of any kind, in compromise believing that evil is not God created, it would have no abiding place or recognition in human affairs. Believing that we have been right, more than this we know that right is always radical. It is the naked truth that always distresses those dressed in the garments of oppression and conservatism.

It is one thing to desire to have for improved conditions to hold the ideal of a higher standard of morals in society and quite another to supplement the sentiment with energy and life in action. This we have done from the birth of our organization to the present time. However much we are blamed for failing to realize the results promised by the strength of our faith, nothing saving of hypocrisy or dishonesty can be charged against us. Today as in all the years of our organized activities we are united and blessed with a courage that knows no defeat. Napoleon's prayer the last hour of the great battle of Waterloo was, 'Total darkness or more troops.' Our prayer is more light and more recruits.

The Convention Purposes.

We are not here to think to plan and relieve inspiration that will enable us to realize greater progress in local and state work the coming year. Providence has never given us a brighter fire of promise than the one before us at the present time. From many sections of our state as well as from most of the other states of the union come the cheering reports that new territory is continually and steadily being converted to the gospel of prohibition—a gospel that is eternal because a stepping stone to eternal life. We observe with gratitude that the press and pulpit each succeeding year are venturing nearer and nearer the exalted ground upon which we stand.

Spread of Prohibition. A complete prohibition map of these United States would surprise the friends of temperance as much as its enemies. There are at this time 4500 towns and cities in which no liquor is legally sold, and there are 400 prohibition counties, and three prohibition states.

A temperance orator has recently said that out of twenty-seven millions of people in the South, seventeen millions are under prohibition. In local option Illinois heads the list with seven hundred near-absolute abiding communities. As a factor in politics, prohibition is proving a constant surprise to the old party leaders. There are now 300 officials elected by the cold water party and holding office in Pennsylvania and 300 in Illinois, including three assemblymen. Everywhere we witness the gathering of fruit, the return of bread after many days cast upon the waters of prohibition.

Temperate Employees. The company operating the great subway system owned by New York city and employing thousands of men, has taken a radical stand against strong drink. Each applicant for a place must take the total abstinence pledge. Commercial trades, manufacturers, steamship and railway companies, fraternal organizations and insurance companies and even many of the labor unions, are black-listing the drink habit. With the aggregate force of all these financial, social and moral currents acting in and swelling the tide of temperance sentiment, there is much reason for indulging optimistic views of the future. Even in California with its small cosmopolitan population, we have 150 towns under prohibition and many others struggling and succeeding in many instances in reducing the number of saloons.

Institute. Under departmental work we will first speak of institutes. The superintendent appointed at the annual meeting was not able to serve. Much time was lost. Mrs. Spomer was then appointed, the woman so skilled in our work that she creditably one place as well as another. As by magic, leaflets, descriptive of the need and value of such instruction reached all counties urging provisions, and making dates for the holding of institutes. Solano, Mendocino and Fresno responded and Mrs. Spomer and Mrs. Bainbridge were in the field during the entire month of March. Hereafter this month is to be known as institute month. Mrs. E. Springle has instituted month. Mrs. E. Springle has several successful institutes in progress.

Mrs. M. F. Norwood, Finance committee

Loyal Temperance Legion.

One L. T. L. work for the past twelve months has been more extended and prosperous than in previous years and it gives me pleasure to announce that San Francisco county has won the state L. T. L. banner, with a gain of 146 pledged members.

It is with deep regret that I must announce that Mrs. Alice Burman, who has had the branch in charge, is obliged to retire from the work. The loss of one so efficient and loyal to her duties as Mrs. Burman means much to this branch. To my own mind it is an important question before us whether we shall put this branch into new hands or whether not try to retain Mrs. Burman by offering her a moderate compensation.

Mrs. Helen Rice, National I. T. L. secretary says when a union has honestly and earnestly worked a reasonable time in trying to maintain work for the boys and girls through all other known methods the time has come to secure a paid leader. This time has come to us. Mrs. Rice strongly advocates paid leaders for this branch and cites several instances where the secretaries are remunerated. Let us consider and act upon these suggestions.

It is our duty to inculcate principles of truth and that divine idea, that the products of the earth are sacred necessities, and should not be converted into soul and body destroying nostrums. The boys of today with the provisions for a right understanding of the doctrine of individual and official life, will make governors and exposition commissioners to which our organization will feel obliged to appeal, as they did to Governor Pardee in the following protest:

Wine at St. Louis Exposition. "Hon. Geo. C. Pardee, Commissioner of Lewis & Clark Exposition: 'We have felt the deepest regret that the appropriation of money for the California exhibit at the St. Louis exposition was unduly taken advantage of for the exploitation of wine and liquors, and having heard that the California building at the Lewis & Clark exposition is likely to be used for the retailing of the 'choice vintages of wine' on exhibition, we earnestly protest against such a course, not only on moral grounds, but as likely to repel the class of home-seekers we are most anxious to attract to this state.'

This protest was largely signed by churches, conferences, conventions and by influential individuals. In his reply the governor said: 'There was a mistake or misunderstanding by the people.' But there was no misunderstanding about the serving of wine at the California building. An eye witness reported that on the night of the governor's reception boys and girls were served with punch by California women. She also reported seeing in one corner of the room the words 'Keep Out,' and learned this was where California liquors were sold. Small bottles of whisky put up as an attractive sample were given away in this room.

This was in strong contrast to the state of Oregon, which gave a dinner at the Bug House Inn on the fair grounds under the joint auspices of the commercial organizations of Portland in honor of a distinguished man, said to have been one of the season's most brilliant events. There were 75 guests present, all were prominent in official and business life. No wine or spirituous liquors of any kind were served during the evening. It seems strange, but it is painfully apparent that men of influence and official position are willing to give undue prominence to the wine interest and the liquor traffic in general. When there is nothing in the whole business but dollars, disgrace and crime.

Frenzied Finance. Recent developments show that frenzied finance is epidemic from New York to San Francisco. That graft is tainting every branch of business and every place in government and forcing men, even United States senators and legislators into the shadow of state prisons. Purloining land from the government, robbing the treasuries of life insurance companies and stealing the bank deposits of the people, seems to have become the general purpose and accomplishment of a large per centage of men holding offices of trust today. The fearful revelations of fraud perpetrated by the interested reading classes, together with the debasing crime crowding influence of the liquor traffic is ominous of a great danger.

Peace Congress. Under the head of peace it should be reported that our state had the honor of holding the first W. C. T. U. peace congress. (Continued on page 9.)

NEW CREAMERY

WHAT THE NEW ENTERPRISE AT KINGSBURG HAS DONE TO RAISE PRICES

PREPARING CREAM BY SPECIAL PROCESS FOR ITS WHOLESALE ICE CREAM, SWEET CREAM, AND FANCY BUTTER TRADE IN LOS ANGELES HAS ENABLED THE CRESCENT CREAM CO. TO PAY SEVERAL CENTS A POUND ABOVE THE ORDINARY CREAMERIES—MORE CREAM WANTED.

Here are the facts and figures as to creamery prices in the valley. A gentleman named Pencock, representing the Cal. Cream & Butter Co., recently organized, and which would like to get into business somewhere, has been announcing broadcast that he would pay 30 cents per pound of fat for cream delivered in Los Angeles. This was the price of butter in Los Angeles the first week in October. It is now 33 3/4 cents per lb. Let us examine these figures.

In the first place, there is not a creamery in Los Angeles that does not regularly and all the time pay 1c per lb. of fat above the market price of butter for our cream to churn. Write to them and see for yourself. This would be 31 cents as against the 30 cents of Mr. Pencock's company.

In the second place, he states that the freight on 40 per cent cream is about 2 1/2 cents per pound of fat, netting the farmer 27 1/2 cents, whereas, the fact is that the freight on 40 per cent cream is exactly 3 2/3 cents per lb. of fat, no more and no less; a misstatement of 1 1/4c per lb. of fat. Of course this is a mere trifle from Mr. Pencock's standpoint, but it is a very important difference from the farmer's standpoint.

In the third place, very few farmers in the valley furnish cream that runs anywhere near 40 per cent. It averages between 30 and 35 per cent. It costs the Cal. Cream & Butter Co. or anybody else just $1.20 per 10 gal. can to ship cream of any per cent to Los Angeles. It costs the farmer 40c per 10 gal. can of 40 per cent cream. The cream weighs less than 82 lbs. (it weighs 83 lbs.) and contains 32.8 lbs. of fat; 10 gallons of 35 per cent cream contains 28.7 lbs. fat, and 10 gallons of 30 per cent cream contains 24.6 lbs. of fat. The freight on the 40 per cent cream is 3.56 cents per lb. of fat; on the 35 per cent cream it is 4.18 cents per lb. of fat; and on the 30 per cent cream it is 4.83 cents per pound of fat. Add to this the cost of hauling and delivering the cream at the railroad depot or skimming station. Where this hauling is done by large neighborhood loads it costs from 1 to 2 cents per lb. of fat, and if in smaller loads it will cost more. The average cost to all creameries in the valley is about 1 1/2 cents per lb. of fat. Therefore the hauling and freight on 40 per cent cream would cost the farmer not 2 1/2 cents but 6.28 cents per pound of fat, and on 35 per cent cream it would cost 6.88 cents, and on 40 per cent cream it would cost 7.43c per lb. a very different result from the fine picturing of this Cal. Cream & Butter Co. Investigate the freight rates and figure it out for yourself. Also, how many extra cars and how much extra time, trouble, risk and uncertainty will be involved in trying to deliver your cream 240 miles away from home instead of right at your farm or home creamery.

In the fourth place, the scheme of shipping cream from the valley to Los Angeles for butter making purposes has been proven so often to be impracticable, that we cannot but smile at the tenacity of this new concern. We have shown you what the freight amounts to on cream per lb. of fat. The freight on butter to Los Angeles is exactly 1 1/3c per lb. This gives the local or valley creameries an advantage over this Los Angeles concern in freight alone of 3.55c per pound of fat on 30 per cent cream, and of 2.55 cents per lb. of fat on 35 per cent cream, and 2.33c per lb. of fat on 40 per cent cream for butter making purposes. The difference is larger than the entire profits of any creamery should be. It means that the local creameries can pay that much more than the Cal. Cream & Butter Co. for cream, or else that said company must go busted in a little while if it pays the same price and gives the same fairness in tests. Do you see anything in the scheme for you?

The over-all saving cuts very little figure in freight rates. An over-charge of 15c per cent only changes the freight rate from 1 1/3c per lb. on fat.

The carload haul is an old vision. It would take practically all the cream of the three counties of Fresno, Tulare and Kings to make up the carload; and if practicable it would only reduce the rate 8-10th of a cent per lb. of fat which would avail nothing. But the buttermilk, it is said, on the Los Angeles market, will help the Cal. Cream & Butter Co. out will it? Ten gallons of 35 per cent cream will yield 6 1/2 gals. of buttermilk, and no more. This will only bring 5 cents per gallon, at Los Angeles, or 32 1/2 cents, less the cost of handling and marketing it. Call it 30 cents net, or 1.04c per lb. of fat, and if this is deducted from the 2-35 cents difference on freight above, there is still the inevitable 1.81 cents per lb. of fat against them in favor of the local creamery.

HIGHEST PRICES EVER PAID FOR CREAM—AN OFFER THAT MEANS SOMETHING.

The Crescent Cream Co. of Los Angeles, by all means the largest manufacturer of Ice Cream, and the largest wholesaler of sweet cream and fancy butter in Southern California, has been operating the new Kingsburg Creamery since last May. By reason of the character of its business it is not limited to the butter market in its prices paid for cream, as are the butter creameries. It stands ready to buy all the cream that is obtainable anywhere in Fresno, Tulare or Kings counties at points convenient for hauling, or at points convenient for shipping by rail to Kingsburg, at prices considerably above what any of the butter creameries can pay.

The average prices paid by all the creameries in Fresno, Tulare and Kings counties for the last 12 months has been about 4 1/2c, gross, or 3 1/2c, net, after hauling deductions, per pound of fat, below the Los Angeles butter market prices for the same months; and the average paid by the S. M. Creamery during the same 12 months was about 5 1/2c, gross or 6 1/2c, net per pound of fat below said Los Angeles butter prices.

If any one should prefer a specific price instead of our regular plan of payments the Crescent Cream Co. hereby offers for cream delivered at convenient points as above, either at the railroad depot, or at pick up points along our wagon routes, 3 cents per lb. of fat, net, below the Los Angeles butter prices. (Or we will pay 2 1/2 cents below the Los Angeles butter prices for cream delivered at the creamery.)

At the present price of butter this would be 30 3/4c per lb. of fat net to the farmer, we paying the freight or doing the hauling to the creamery. This is 2 1/2c, per lb. better than the average of the creameries, and is 3c, per lb. better than Selma has done.

We are the first and only creamery in the south half of the state to adopt modern pasteurizing methods in the making of butter. Hence the reputation we have gained on our fancy premium butter.

If interested, please call, or telephone or write to us at Kingsburg for further information, giving your exact location and quantity of cream. It will pay you.

.. SOCIETY ..

Mr. and Mrs. Willis D. Weaver entertained at 300 last night in honor of Miss Viola Marchand of San Francisco, who concludes her visit tomorrow with her sister, Mrs. Charles Musick. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver were most attentive hosts and the affair was of that delightful informal nature which insures real enjoyment. With Miss Marchand the guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Musick; Misses George Cummings, Vivian White, Betty Maupin, Marguerite Risley, Lilian Dunn, Mildred Rorick, Marselette Ferguson, Grace Shaver, Elizabeth Kennedy; Messrs Creighton Hamilton, Omar Ryan, J. P. Bernhard, J. H. Mettler, Riggs White, John Meux, Clarence Edwards and Harry Egan.

Miss Nannie Burns has returned from a prolonged summer visit in San Francisco and Oakland.

Miss Stokes of San Francisco is visiting Mrs. H. A. Schulz on Froelich avenue.

The Friday club was entertained yesterday by Mrs. Brain at the home of her mother, Mrs. V. I. Willis. After the usual club business the lesson was begun with a paper given by Mrs. E. B. Waterman and revealed a thorough research into the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy. The article was carefully prepared and delightfully written showing the writer's complete knowledge of her subject. The paper was followed by an interesting general discussion as a preparation for the club's study of Macbeth, which will be taken up on the next study day in two weeks. Next week will be a social day. Mrs. Fred McAllister and Miss Stokes, of San Francisco were visitors at the club.

The Merry-go-round Whist Club met last night for re-organization with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Higgins. The pleasant affair served as an informal welcome home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gundelfinger who have just returned from a year's foreign travel. Tables for cards were arranged about the rooms, but the interest in cards was almost entirely suspended by the interest in the returned travelers, who had a store of entertaining experiences to relate. The guests of the evening—all club members—included Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gundelfinger, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gundelfinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shaver, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Swift, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Einstein.

Miss Vivian White went to San Francisco last night for a week-end visit.

The Alpha Whist club met yesterday for the first time this season with the president, C. L. Walters. The reunion was a delightful one and every member was in heart place. Mrs. W. L. Graves, who has come up from Hanford where she has been attending her brother, Dix on L. Phillips, for a brief return visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips, was a guest of the afternoon.

Miss Lena Alford left last night for Los Angeles after a pleasant visit with old friends in town.

Mrs. W. E. G. Saunders of Laton was a visitor in town yesterday, making the trip in her automobile.

The Parlor Lecture club auto drive is the event of the day and there is every promise of a most successful affair. The ladies have met with hearty co-operation on every hand and expect to accomplish the desired result—that of assisting in filling the coffers of the club house building fund. The ladies wish it to be known that the invitation is a general one and not restricted to visitors alone, although with so many in town they will probably be ready to avail themselves of this fine opportunity to see the country.

Miss Mary Mac Lyment, who has been down from San Francisco on a visit to her mother and sister at the Sunnyside vineyard, returns tomorrow to the city.

Mrs. Walter Whitney is recovering from an illness which has confined her to the house for the past fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of the Sunnyside vineyard are expected from their Santa Barbara home the latter part of next week.

The Friday Afternoon Card club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Lewis R. Smith. Mrs. B. G. McDougall won the cup and suzer trophy. Mrs. Ames of Oakland and Mrs. Avila of San Francisco were visitors at the club.

COUNTERFEITER ON TRANSPORT SHERMAN HAS CONFESSED CRIME
HONOLULU, Oct. 20.—The federal grand jury is investigating the case of alleged counterfeiting by men who sailed from this port on the arroy transport Sherman. It is reported that a confession has been made by one of the defendants which implicates others. It is expected that indictments will be found against the two prisoners under arrest in San Francisco and that they will be brought back here for trial. Of the six men arrested when the transport was here three, probably, will be released. Indictments are likely to be found against two or three of the men for having counterfeited currency in their possession.

Several local cases of counterfeiting are also before the courts here. Private Cooper, arrested here in August, has pleaded guilty to making ten-dollar counterfeits and Private Wilson pleaded guilty to having counterfeits in his possession. The others accused will fight the case.

Usury in Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Commissioner Wagner of the pension bureau today announced his intention of recommending the dismissal from the service of a number of employees who had been engaged in loaning money in the bureau at usurious rates. He said that in some cases as high as 10 per cent per month has been charged and expresses the opinion that the dismissal of offenders is the only effective way of stopping the practice.

SOLDIER BALL CLUB

PRESIDIO BOYS WILL MEET LOCALS HERE TOMORROW.

Joe McCarthy Signs to Play Short for Fresno—Stockton Releases Several "Stars" and Signs New Men.

Joe McCarthy will wear a Fresno uniform for the balance of the present baseball season. Manager Nelson made arrangements with the old Tiger when he was here last Sunday and Joseph will be in tonight ready for tomorrow's contest with Presidio. All the fans know McCarthy. Today he would be in the fastest league in the country if he were only a hitter. As it is, he holds jobs in some pretty fast leagues, and wherever he plays he makes a record by his remarkable fielding. He was in the Southern league this year, until that league was broken up by the yellow fever epidemic. He made a good record in the South and returned to the coast in fine fettle, and has been playing the best of ball with the San Francisco club.

In tomorrow's game with the Presidio team McCarthy will play at short. McKinnon will return to second base and Adams will take the bench once more. The Presidio team has lost to San Jose and Stockton since it last played here and is coming tomorrow therefore determined to win. The last time the soldier boys played here they defeated Fresno, chiefly because the local boys played stupid ball. Fresno outthit the soldiers twice to one, but in base running Fresno fell down and that was what lost the game. O'Brien so far has been an enigma to the Presidios and he can be depended upon to keep them guessing again tomorrow. Fresno has got to take tomorrow's game or the chances for the pennant will take on an uncheerful aspect, so watch for the hottest contest of the last half.

It was only about six weeks ago that Stockton was attributing Fresno's failure to keep up in the first half of the season to too frequent changes in men. At that time Stockton had won about thirteen straight and had no need to make any changes. But Stockton lost three games and the managerial axe began to fall. So far Fresno, Waters, Egan and McMurray have been released. They were four of the league's star players during the greater part of the season. Fresno and Waters were never hitters, but Stange had the reputation of breaking up many games with a timely wallop. McMurray, it is said, was released for personal reasons. Certain it is that Mcering will go long away before he will find as good a catcher as "Little Mack."

A number of big leaguers will be on the Stockton team for the balance of the season. Dick Egan, who was with Spokane for several months and was the crack infielder last year of the San Jose team, is one of the new men. Sullivan, a Southern league catcher, has taken McMurray's place, while Cy Townsend has been secured for first base. McMurray wants to come to Fresno. He is a mighty good catcher and a few weeks ago Fresno would have been glad to get him. But everybody is well satisfied with the work of Walter Kuhn, who is one of the finds of the year. Manager Nelson will not replace him.

At San Jose, too, a process of rejuvenation has been in progress. Hal Chase, the famous California player who has startled the East this year with his playing on the New York Americans, will finish the season with the Fresno Hawks. Elmer Strickland, another American leaguer, who made himself famous with the "spit ball," is to twirl out the season. Unless all signs fail this league will be one of the fastest in the country in the next few weeks.

COAST BALL GAMES.

Tacoma's Run of Ill Luck Seems to Have No End in Sight Yet.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—Today's game with Tacoma was a hard fought contest. In a pitcher's battle between Nagle and Keefe the former had the best of it. Both teams played without error and the fielding was snappy and fast. Los Angeles secured the only run of the game in the last half of the eighth inning when Bernard and Smith rapped off successive doubles. Keefe's pitching was splendid in tight places and he pulled himself and his team out of several holes that seemed desperate.
Score: R. H. E.
Los Angeles.....1 8 0
Tacoma.....0 6 4
Batteries—Nagle and Eager; Keefe and Graham.
Umpire—Perrine.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—Jimmy Whalen had one of his good days today and the local club went home without a run, while on the other hand, the wildness of Perry and Cates was profitable to the San Francisco players, who scored eight runs off three hits. Score: R. H. E.
San Francisco.....8 5 1
Portland.....0 6 4
Batteries—Whalen and Wilson; Shea; Feery, Cates, Caffey, McLean and Sues.
Umpire—Rankin.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—It was a one-sided game today with Seattle at the big end. Graham's delivery was to the liking of the Northern Batters and they rapped him merrily at intervals. His eight passes and wildness also contributed to swell the score. Van Haltren, in the ninth saved his team a shutout by making a four-bagger. Score: R. H. E.
Seattle.....9 14 0
Oakland.....1 8 2
Batteries—C. Hall and Palm; Graham and Byrne.

VIENNA, Oct. 20.—J. Zenil, minister of Mexico to Austria-Hungary, died here tonight.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Mrs. Lloyd Wheaton, wife of Major General Lloyd Wheaton, died today at her home here after a month's illness, aged 50 years.

Arson in an Arsenal.
CHERBOURG, France, Oct. 20.—An incendiary fire which occurred today at the arsenal here, where three submarine boats are being built, did extensive damage to the boats and other property.

congress at Pacific Grove in July. The name and theme were opportune, from the fact of the existing conflict in the Far East, and the special interest it created in the Christian and commercial world.

During the past two years war with its terrible consequences has mocked the professions of faith and good will that established the court at The Hague and ignored the divine injunction of "Peace on Earth, and Good Will to Men," as well as the command, "Thou Shalt Not Kill." As an awful cost a salutary and to be hoped valuable lesson has been taught both parties to the contest, especially Russia.

The glory of war for conquest is fading and the beauty of peace and arbitration is turning above the mistaken mission of armies and navies. The people who bear two burdens are beginning to realize the vital significance as the master's message "We Shall Know the Truth and the Truth Shall Make You Free."

In Memoriam.

For many weeks through the medium of the mails I have anxiously canvassed the state to ascertain who could be depended upon for support in the carrying out of the exercises of this convention. As always before many loyal and cheerful responses were made, while others were less hopeful, or sad with expressions of sorrow, the result of illness or bereavement. There is a sameness in the record of experiences in great organizations which we all realize more and more each closing year. As we look around us this hour to count our friends and loyal comrades, we find their places vacant. Intimately we feel that some are absent because they are called by two Masters to a higher place and a greater work.

One we shall greatly miss has gone from us since our last convention never to return. Mrs. Grace Kimball leaves a large vacant place in our hearts as well as in the conception and expression of our public work. A friend who was loyal, faithful and true. As a support to our cause, she was constant, steadfast and strong. The soul of good cheer and dignified humor, and rare versatility. She was always ready for any emergency. For fourteen years Mrs. Kimball had a place on our state program for both congress and convention. We shall miss her more and more and her memory will grow sacred as the years go by.

Conclusion.

In conclusion I want to congratulate everyone present and everyone not here who has contributed and helped to make it favorable for California, to them the honors of jubilee night at the national convention which follows so closely upon our own. Our increase has been 576 members, thus showing where there is a real interest in the work it will find expression and show itself in results. California is growing in population, and our organization must or should keep pace with every other desirable expression. As always before at the closing hours of another official turn my heart is filled with love and gratitude for continued unimpaired evidence of loyalty in comradeship, as well as sincere and kindly expressions of friendship. By all, in all capacities in our work, the most considerate courtesies have been extended to me. For these and all the blessings given us as individuals and as an organization my heart is moved with a prayerful sentiment of thanksgiving.

Afternoon Papers.

After devotional service led by Mrs. J. L. Everts, the afternoon work was taken up.

A paper on "School Savings Banks," by Miss Sabra Finch, contained some very valuable information, and there were a number of excellent musical numbers.

Mrs. Mae M. Whitman of Solano county, told "How We Won the Labor Banner Last Year," which was followed by the presentation of the banner. Another paper on "A Wheel with Fifteen Spokes," was a careful analysis of the nature and method of C. T. U. work by an experienced member, Mrs. C. M. Ayres. Adjournment came early to permit the members to attend the reception at the Chamber of Commerce.

Evening Session.

The evening session opened with a brief devotional session led by Mrs. Augusta C. Baumbach, followed by a solo "The White Ribbon Star Spangled Banner," sung by Mrs. Renowden Bailey. Mrs. Elizabeth Ross Miller, the county president of Mendocino, was introduced to the audience and gave an eloquent paper entitled "Beyond the Horizon." Mrs. Miller is gifted with unusual eloquent powers and delivered her address with graceful phrases, in which were combined force and truth. She pictured the ideal phases of the work and declared that history had proven that the time has come when moral laws have assumed their rightful supremacy. Civic evils cannot exist under true Americanism. The present social conditions compare favorably with those of the past. The speaker dwelt at length upon reformatory movements all over the land, and the temperance current sweeping onward with gathered force. The evils of intemperance in California were forcibly brought out and she told of 14,000 licensed saloons. The necessity for reform was another strong point made. The speaker expressed the thought that no man is really worthy of honor in his state as he who has exalted civic courage. Principle as well as sentiment is necessary—principle, deep and permanent to protect the homes of our land. Heroism and loyalty is necessary in the fight against liquor. The speaker gave some statistics of prohibition and local option. Ninety per cent of the local keepers are former business Americans are above such a business.

In conclusion she spoke of the vast army of earnest women who are in the battle and those who are in it are in to stay. Their systematic efforts strike terror to established institutions and their scope is wide. She quoted President Roosevelt's declaration, "The center of strength is in the home," and continued the thought by emphasizing the importance of purity in the home. "The sentence of doom has been pronounced against the legalized liquor traffic and victory is just ahead."

Mrs. S. M. Woodman of Alameda also read a paper on much the same lines as the preceding, entitled "Christian Citizenship." Mrs. Woodman is a very matter-of-fact and forceful speaker and her remarks made a great impression. She spoke in part as follows:

"Many seem to think the church is the only place for active work in God's vineyard. This is a grave mistake. Christian citizenship should be carried into every department of business. It is this lack of high ideals of citizenship that is responsible for the dishonesty so glaringly conspicuous in our public officials today. It seems to be true that an unselfish and honest regard for public affairs is a phenomenon. We need heroes in time of peace, as well as in time of war, and our social structure is much more liable to fall from lack of moral support than it is from the fiercest cannonades that ever stormed its defenses.

"Just as long as our political machinery is run by party bosses, just so long will all laws for morality and decency be violated. A little child in strutting to repeat a text about Daniel the prophet, mistook the word 'spirit' for 'spine' and clearly read out in resonant tones, 'As for this Daniel, an excellent spine was in him.' It was not a bad mistake, as subsequent history proves. If it could be said of all our officials whose duty it is to execute the law, 'He has an excellent spine in him,' there would be a wonderful clearing up and clearing out in many of our great cities.

"We need mayors like Nehemiah, who will stand as stiff as steel in law enforcement. Our grand jurors, our police force, our county sheriffs, our district attorneys, our governors, all need the kind of a spine that Daniel had."

"It is the duty of the state to educate its youth in all that is necessary to insure good citizenship. Education is not necessarily an aid to morality, but education united with moral tendencies is certain to make those tendencies more effective."

"In most of our large cities, the minority rules, and the majority are the worst classes, but they are a unit. The majority, who would rejoice to see good government, plead lack of time to attend primaries, make individual efforts, and when the votes are counted, they are surprised at the result. There is no royal road to good citizenship. It is up-hill and requires toil and eternal vigilance to reach the goal. But those heights are attainable. Give woman the ballot, train the boys and the girls to look upon the rights of citizenship as sacred as the rights of religious worship, let patriotism and religion become synonymous. Let morality be one of the tests of citizenship, both for the native and the naturalized. Let the decalogue thundered from Sinai be required vector in the education of every voter."

Today's Sessions.

The most important business of the day will be the election of officers for the ensuing year and delegates to the national convention. This evening a diamond medal contest will be held. The formal program is as follows:

Morning, 9:30 O'clock.

Devotional service, Miss Nellie Harris. Reading of minutes. Roll call and Report of Credentials committee. Election of officers. Noonday prayer, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Biggs.

Afternoon.

Devotional services, Mrs. Mae M. Whitman. Reading of minutes. Election of national delegates. Presentation of state flag, Tulare county.

Solo, "Asleep in the Cradle," Mrs. Renowden Bailey. (Words by Mrs. Zerah Buckminster.) Paper, "Opportunity," Mrs. Eva S. Gilchrist.

Free parliament, "The High School Girl," Mrs. Nina Stuntz Sheppa. Presentation of mothers' banner, Solano county.

Evening, 8:30 O'clock.

Diamond medal contest, Miss Anna Chase, presiding. Five contestants from Fresno county. Musical program in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Frog.

Music. (a) The Witches Dance, (b) The Black, McDowell. Presentation of medal, Mrs. A. A. Rowell. Valse in E, Merzkowski.

To Occupy Local Pulpits.

A number of delegates to the convention are very eloquent preachers and will occupy local pulpits tomorrow morning as follows: First, Presbyterians, Mrs. S. M. Woodman, First Methodist, Rev. Birdelle C. Washburn; First Christian, Mrs. A. C. Bainbridge; Cumberland Presbyterian, Mrs. E. D. Biggs; First Baptist, Mrs. E. R. Miller; United Presbyterian, Mrs. D. J. Spencer; Second Christian, Miss Sarah M. Severance; Mrs. A. E. U. Hillis, Methodist Church of Easton.

THE SUPERIOR COURT

CRAZY CHINAMAN AND CRAZY JAP TO GO TO ASYLUM.

Both Were Too Wild to Take From Their Cells—Quatsoe's Suit Against Goodman.

A Chinaman and a Jap, both crazy as March hares, have had a hearing in court. Both hearings were conducted in the chambers of Justice Patterson in the basement of the courthouse adjoining the insane ward. The Chink and the Jap were so unusually crazy that brute force alone could have got them up the two flights of stairs to the courtroom. So the court moved down where the two criminals, possessed with devil or something equally as terrible, were throwing themselves about their cells and yelling like fiends.

Judge Church sat first and his subject was Charley Wing, the Chinaman who was caught running wild on Mariposa street. Mrs. H. St. John Hopkins and G. L. Long listened to the incoherent screams of Wing and decided he was crazy. When asked why he screamed Wing said he did it out of devilishness. Wing has a mania which by popular tradition is attributed to the whole Chinese race. He prefers dirty water for drinking purposes to clean water. He says filthy water is sweet.

Wing was a cook and is 31 years old. He will be taken to Stockton.

S. Kobayashi was examined by Drs. W. T. Maupin and Geo. H. Aiken. Kobayashi jumps up and down and throws his body about. He was brought from Fowler by Constable Mason. The Japanese in Fowler had tied Kobayashi hand and foot to keep him from hurting his friends. His insanity came on him rather suddenly. He has a brother in Sacramento who wants to take him back to Japan as soon as it is safe to take the straps off the man's body. Judge Austin committed Kobayashi to the asylum.

Payment for Piano.

The troubles of J. E. Quatsoe and S. B. Goodman over a piano delivered to Goodman in 1904 for a piano voting contest were aired before Judge Austin yesterday. Goodman with other merchants took a piano which was consigned for and was won by the Spanish American War veterans. Goodman's name appeared on a contract promising to pay $135 as his share in the piano. Quatsoe brought suit when Goodman refused to pay and in the lower court Goodman won. The case was appealed and yesterday evidence was taken. Goodman's defense was that his business was not at all increased by the scheme. The contract assumed benefit to him. No benefit came and therefore the contract was invalidated. Judge Austin instructed that the defense was not good. G. W. Cartwright appeared for Quatsoe and W. D. Tupper for Goodman.

Divorce Court.

Judge Church gave Anna Schmidt the interdictory decree of divorce she asked for yesterday. She appeared in court with her attorney, D. T. Winne, and told her story. The husband, William Schmidt, was a cruel husband, chokings and scoldings were numerous and they came so often that even she as a dutiful wife could see no excuse for him. The husband earned wages, but the wife saw none of the coin.

Leona Armitage wants to be given freedom from the bonds of marriage. Her suit for divorce against Arthur J. Armitage was placed on file yesterday by her attorney, James A. Burns.

An execution was issued yesterday by Judge Church on a judgment entered in 1895. C. A. Everts as administrator held judgment against J. A. Beall on a note given William Wooten. The total judgment of $703.85 has been assigned to Jacob Hockenberry.

E. E. Redfield has reported on the administration of the estate of Annus N. Redfield. There has been $45 paid out and $139.16 still to be paid. The estate has a house and lot worth $500.

Released on Own Recognizance.

T. W. Young, the man arrested for hitting M. Parsley with a hammer day before yesterday, appeared before Justice Smith yesterday and pleaded guilty to a charge of battery. He was released on his own recognizance. Time of trial was not set.

Western Pacific Construction.

MARYSVILLE, Oct. 20.—Ten carloads of horses, scrapers, dump wagons and other railroad building material arrived here today and will be used by the Pacific Coast construction company to build the Western Pacific railroad from Marysville to Oroville and south from here to Stockton.

HILL MILITARY ACADEMY VISITORS

TO THE
LEWIS AND CLARK EXPOSITION

will do well to remember that the Hill Military Academy offers splendid home-like accommodations for all who visit Portland during the exposition. The location of the academy is ideal for such purposes as it is situated less than ten minutes walk from the entrance and close to street cars. It is the only building in a large block in the center of the best residential portion of the city. Meals will be served at a table in the spacious dining room connected with the academy. For rates and reservations apply to J. W. HILL M. D., Prop., Portland, Oregon.

KING ALFONSO'S SISTER BETROTHED FORMALLY TO FERDINAND OF BAVARIA

MADRID, Oct. 20.—The betrothal of Prince Ferdinand of Bavaria to Infanta Maria Teresa, sister of King Alfonso, was formally accomplished today. The prince went to the royal palace, where he signed an act of Spanish naturalization in the presence of the royal family and this evening a royal banquet was given at the palace in honor of the bride, in which the German ambassador represented the prince. The marriage will be popular and the Infanta is much felicitated.

To Whom It May Concern.

It having come to our notice that certain parties are representing to the people of Fresno that the stock of goods formerly owned by us is to be sold in Fresno as the bankrupt stock of the City of Fresno, we wish to caution our friends, and former patrons that the City of Fresno stock was sold and shipped to the J. R. Lane Dry Goods Company of Los Angeles, and is to be sold in that city. Any advertisement claiming the stock of the City of Fresno to be sold in Fresno as a bankrupt stock is misleading and a catch to mislead the public into buying a different stock entirely.

Neglected Colds and Coughs

Are dangerous and often lead to an early grave. The best remedy to break up a fresh cold quick is S. B. Catarrh Cure which acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the entire system. Try it: at Smith Bros' drug store.

Promote the secretions of the urine and renew the enervated kidneys by using Lash's Kidney and Liver Bitters. You owe it to yourself.

BUSINESS BRISK AND IMPROVING

YET WITH NO DISPOSITION TO START A BOOM.

Foreign Trade in September Eclipsed All Records—Mild Weather Deters
Retail Business.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Dun's Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say: Activity broadened in commercial channels and confidence expanded because of the many evidences of conservatism. Business is brisk and improving, yet there is no disposition to start a boom either in commodities or securities. Current retail trade is not equaling expectations, but this is attributed to mild autumn weather and preparations for the future are undiminished.

Statistics of foreign trade eclipsed all September records last month, which was particularly gratifying in view of the fact that a loss of over $11,000,000 in exports of cotton had to be made up elsewhere.

Manufacturers have secured deliveries of enough packer hides during the winter months to reduce activity somewhat, but there is no weakness owing to the limited offerings.

Failures this week numbered 232 in the United States against 215 last year, and 38 in Canada compared with 39 a year ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say: Trade reports are rather more irregular than industry is still at a high tension. Colder weather now advancing is reported stimulating retail trade and influencing re-order business with jobbers. Car shortages are becoming more acute, the Pacific coast now feeling their influence, and grain, lumber, coal, coke and oil shipments are delayed thereby.

The price situation is strong as a whole, though there is weakness in sugar, corn, hog products and raw silk and quiet in other lines of raw materials. Nothing of this sort is, however, indicated in hides. Wool is quiet as a whole.

Business failures in the United States on the week ending October 19, numbered 178, against 183 last week, 227 in the like week of 1904, 216 in 1903, 194 in 1902 and 233 in 1901.

In Canada failures for the week numbered 31 as against 31 last week and 39 in this week a year ago.

Wheat, including foreign exports for the week ending October 19, are 2,831,182 bushels against 2,774,462 last week, 1,664,628 in this week last year, 4,265,028 in 1903, and 7,061,135 in 1902. From July 1 to date the exports are 22,705,319 bushels against 20,972,348 last year and 83,826,317 in 1902.

Dame Fashion's Decree From Gay Paree

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The American who is not of international social or financial reputation certainly has an uncomfortable experience upon her first visit to a famous dressmaking establishment in Paris. She is ushered, to be sure, with great ceremony into an exquisite Louis XV. empire salon where, to her unaccustomed eyes, an afternoon reception seems to be in progress. Such is not the case, it only "seems like so." We take our clothes very seriously nowadays, and the fact is that some smart patron has asked a few of her friends of both sexes to drop in between 4 and 6, which are the fashionable shopping hours, to the final "trying on" of a creation. When monsieur, the artist, has finished his critical survey of effects he advances politely if a little inquiringly toward Mme. Anonymous, who stammers out in her best French, that she would like a street, dinner or evening toilet. Monsieur, recognizing the accents of one of Uncle Sam's countrywomen, puts out his hand mysteriously and in response to this summons a graceful Englishwoman appears who is detailed to madame's service. A polite snub at the very outset.

"The discomfort of the visit is really just beginning, for the shrewd attendant while displaying some rather commonplace costumes is sizing up her customer and trying to determine whether she be dressmaker, fashion writer or artistic dress designer come to take sketches from memory. Not until the American patron mentions that her cousin Mrs. Standard Oil, or a friend, Miss Equitable Life, has recommended her to the atelier does the atmosphere become clear and serene. Then a graceful procession of manikins gloriously arrayed in winter gowns is ordered to pass before her bewildered gaze. If an escape is made without ordering more than one frock which is too "frenchy," fate has been indeed kind to the stranger within the sartorial gates. Such was the experience of a friend of mine the other day at one of the most exclusive houses. "I got some stunning ideas," she remarked when asked about her visit, "but I certainly paid for them both in discomfort and in coin of the realm."

A notion gleaned from this high authority was that where formerly one or two tailor made dresses took the average woman successfully through a season four or even five are ordered and considered necessary in this year of grace. A morning tresser dress, short of skirt and evolved from two or three of homespun, another more dainty and elaborate gown for street wear and two long skirted visiting or carriage frocks.

I am obliged to tell you that the trailing skirt is with us in all its unhygienic length, a blessing alike to the street cleaner and carter. But it will sweep along in undisputed sway only in the afternoon. Pedestrians to whom it is a menace are duly warned to keep out of the way during those hours. Many dressy costumes have, with silver used in the same manner, the skirt in two or even three separate pieces, much on the order of flounces set on a foundation skirt. The sheath-jupon is another revival of yesteryear, but the new development has a saucy flare at the feet that would shock the old model. Great care should be taken not to get the back of this skirt too tight. There must be fullness that is not seen, such as is to be obtained with inverted box plaits.

Fine French broadcloth in a new soft, medium shade of gray called platine is first favorite for calling costumes and mixed gray cloths in hard finish or smooth effects in wool mixtures are happily employed for rough service street gowns. There is, too, a coarse estimate in two tone combinations that is very chic. Panama cloth in a heavier weave than we have been wearing comes in plaids and stripes this season. Shot chevrons are leaders in the world of fabrics and make up into smart serviceable gowns, but that we are to have a successful broadcloth winter there is not a shadow of a doubt.

Parisians are particularly devoted to present to a grayish olive shade, which is being used in dress and millinery purposes. It has been expressively dubbed "pea soup green" and is, I regret to say, becoming to few non-danish. Still there are warm olive green tones that are not trying, which when touched up with artistic correctness are fascinating. Speaking of "touching up effects," gold is distinctly a feature of the season in this line, with silver used in the same manner. Discretion is the better part of valor, though, where gold braid is in question, and a relieving note is all a refined woman will allow to appear on a costume. Illustrative of this point, a pretty girl just gone by is decidedly frivolous. The man raised his eyebrows inquiringly at her. "Of course," she replied, "you—no, not you, but any woman—can tell any other woman's character and disposition by her dress, her edging tucks with just a suspicion of gilt braid. Velvet three piece gowns are one of the season's novelties, and were it not for chemisees and deep cuffs of lace a waist of even the lightweight velvet used nowadays would be unattractive and clumsy. The coats are of the pure style and lined with dainty dyed silks. Bands of satin trim many of these velvet frocks, while others are adorned with braid and narrow edgings of fur. If a waistcoat is in evidence, embroidered satin is the fabric used.

A velvet princess gown with long, trailing skirt is an exceedingly swagger possession made with a jetted bolero jacket and a jabot of old lace. Indeed, the handsome jet is to be seen on a number of stunning frocks, including evening toilets of white satin elaborately trimmed with black thread lace.

Velvet applied as a wide band at the bottom of the skirt is a new old idea and a very practical one at the same time, for this line of dark velvet protects a light cloth gown where it comes in contact with the ground.

Dog collars of jet are perfectly stunning worn with a white or black toilet, and it is now the object of every up to date girl to own as many original jeweled collars as she has chains and dan-gles. Beads are pressed into service for the dog collars and an exquisite, little neck decoration is made by weaving tiny white beads to the right height and size and barring it off several times around the collar with bands of small daisies having gold centers.

The separate coat is to be seriously reckoned with this winter. A theater wrap of some elaborate sort is important, a dressy afternoon coat to be worn over light gowns and another for all around day wear. These extra coats do not infringe upon the rights of the coat and skirt suits, however, they simply supplement them.

For informal evening, driving and street wear there is a new topcoat which Parisians are taking up enthusiastically. It is made of heavy Scotch tweed in black and white check. It is long, loose and circular and cut with heart by her hat, her mind by her muslin scarf and so on." But to return to dog trimmings. Little eyelets and prongs to pass through the eyelets are a smart finish to a dark tailored gown. Cloth buttons set in rims of gold are also effective. Still another permissible touch is found in edging tucks with just a suspicion of gilt braid. Velvet three piece gowns are one of the season's novelties, and were it not for chemisees and deep cuffs of lace a waist of even the lightweight velvet used nowadays would be unattractive and clumsy. The coats are of the pure style and lined with dainty dyed silks. Bands of satin trim many of these velvet frocks, while others are adorned with braid and narrow edgings of fur. one seam down the back. Collar and cuffs of black velvet trim neck and sleeves. School girls will revel in a coat of this description, and on cold days it is just the wrap to keep them warm and comfortable. Besides, it is easily slipped on and off.

Some of us believe, then, that many of the feminine sex at the present time have angelic tendencies, for wings sprout from every other hat one sees, and wings of jet are among the favored hair ornaments. A high novelty of millinery is the comet aigret, a long sweeping affair that rises on a hat from the enveloping loops of huge rosettes of ribbon. And, apropos of the chapeau, there is a modern arrangement of the tricorn with its brim very much curled up at one side, against which the comet brush of feathers is very smart, although a trifle startling.

Lingerie blouses of the thinnest and daintiest kinds are to hold their own all winter. These will trust to warm heat and warm furs to make themselves popular in blizzard weather. Slips of china silk worn under them add not a little to comfort. These lacy waists are to be the correct thing for matinee wear and are considered much smarter than silk. Heavy linen tub shirt waists are out in a number of attractive models, not the least attractive being a waist of coarse French linen with a double box plait down the center and a like plait on each side of the front. At the bust line are two pockets, the flaps fastened with pearl buttons. The back is made plain or with a shallow yoke. Another linen waist has plaits from the shoulder and is double breasted, the neck cut in a deep U, which is filled in with an embroidered chemise.

Silk waists made very much on the lines of the lingerie blouses have the sleeves embellished with a monogram inclosed in an odd design. The letters are usually drop effects in Chinese characters. Shaded pearl buttons toning in with the embroidery, silk and the belt buckles are smart accessories of the winter silk waists.

CATHERINE TALBOT.

The Popularity of Lace.

Never has lace been more popular than it is at present. Old lace and new lace, real lace and imitation, hold sway. The woman with lace heelsoms is the envied creature of the hour. No frock is complete without its touch of lace. Even the severe tailor made gown must have at least its little turnover collar, delicate lawn with lace insertions, or its cuffs of the same. Valenciennes lace is trimming broadcloth, in the shape of deep rows of insertions sewed together in a broad, slender piece. Evening gowns are one mass of lace frills, and the lace hat is the correct thing for fashionable afternoon functions.

Empire Styles in Fur.

The greatest efforts are being made to revive the empire modes. The loose empire models of gold, however, they be in moleskin or seal skin. A beautiful model seen shows broad bands of galloon, with an empire collar and sleeves trimmed to correspond and lined with wonderful old brocade.

Ermine Boleros.

There are delightful little ermine boleros, very short, cut up to show underfrills of lace, and other ridiculous little garments, which look so well with a beautifully made white cloth skirt and a white hat trimmed with ermine.

Gown of Terra Cotta Cloth

THE gown illustrated is evolved from terra cotta cloth and is princess in effect. The blouse is laid in opposite plaits held down with velvet bands in a lighter tint of red.

A ruche of taffeta borders the flat collar and velvet embroidered in colors. Buttons of passementerie and loops of velvet fasten the plaits of the corselet skirt.

Character From Shoes.

A certain shoemaker is a firm believer in "shoology." He says: "Worn shoes go ahead of the art of fortune telling from the lines of the hand."

"Show me any person's footgear after two months' wear and I will describe the character of the person."

"If the soles and heels are worn evenly, then the wearer is a resolute, able business man, with a clear head, a trustworthy official or an excellent wife and mother. If the soles are worn on the outside, the wearer is inclined to adventurous, uncertain, difficult deeds, or, if a woman, to bold, self-willed, capricious tricks."

"The sole being worn on the inner side shows hesitation and weakness in a man and modesty in a woman."

Millinery Matters.

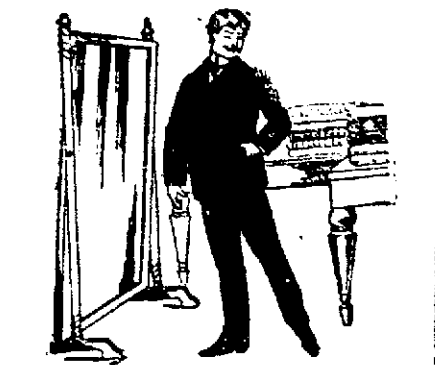

The newest felts are in pale colors, showing trimmings of mirror velvet and the inevitable wing or quill. These are of small jaunty shapes, with a high bandeau. Small shapes in velvet and satin mixed will be very smart. These show a tendency toward the tudor shapes—that is, to say a triple narrow brim of velvet and a round could crown of satin, with a puff of ostrich plumes at the side. The favorite Paris color is a golden brown, so bright that it almost becomes a yellow, taking in beautiful autumnal colorings.

LEARNING BY DOING

MANUAL TRAINING GOOD THING FOR FEEBLE MINDED.

In Sloyd Work the Hand and Eye Bring Back the Lesson to Those of Little Mind.

(By A. J. Pillsbury.) ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 6.—A short time before leaving California, one of our prominent educators remarked in my hearing that, while manual training is very useful in itself, and greatly to be encouraged, the best educational thought of the day had receded from the position taken ten or fifteen years ago that the intellectual faculties are also capable of great stimulation through the motor centers as developed by manual training.

I have been taking some testimony on this point as opportunity has offered for the way, perhaps not from among the leading thinkers among educators, but at any rate among those who have come into closest touch with the development of latent intellects and this testimony seems to me to be worth laying before the public, although by no means exhaustive.

The Only Thread of Hope.

At the Home for Feeble Minded at Port Wayne, Indiana, manual training is found to afford almost the only clue to the intellectual life and through some form of it the brain has to be reached. Furthermore, only that which is done is remembered. The feebleness of the mind manifests itself in forgetting today the lessons of yesterday, except as the hand and eye can bring them back into memory's grasp.

Miss Helen M. Shattuck, for many years in charge of the educational work of the boys' reform school at Rochester, New York, and not a sloyd teacher, relies on manual training to awaken the slumbering intelligence of the boys committed to her charge. Prof. Briggs, superintendent of this institution, declared that too much can not be said for manual training as an aid to the moral and intellectual development of the boy.

Good School for It is Action.

Dr. Westcott, superintendent of the Rochester school for deaf children, finds manual training in some form the best, and sometimes the only available avenue to the intellects of deaf children. In fact, he affirms that it is action, incessant and loving, that opens the world to the comprehension of all infants, hearing or deaf. He employs it in some form at every stage of the development of his charges and would not know how to make progress without it.

Dr. Sprattling, superintendent of the great epileptic colony at Sonoma, New York, affirms manual training to be the best medicine he can give hurt or defective minds. It stimulates the brain to activity, challenges attention, excites enthusiasm and lessens the number and severity of the seizures. It is not too much to assume that what manual training can do for deficient intellects it can do better for persons with normal minds that only need awakening to become useful.

Superintendent Murray's Testimony.

The testimony upon which I place the greatest value is that of Prof. W. W. Murray, superintendent of manual training for the public schools of Rochester, New York. He is a man of the highest personal character and has devoted his life to educational, and largely industrial educational work, and has now introduced sloyd into every department of the public schools from the kindergarten to the high school. Furthermore, he has organized, put into operation and, for several years, conducted the industrial educational part of the Rochester reform school. Surely he has not lacked for opportunity for observation and investigation.

Manual training is being made the essence of the work of the truant schools and with excellent results. When all else has failed it has given the teacher the "availing end" of the boy's intelligence and has won him back to school and to decent behavior. All observing principals in the Rochester schools readily affirm that sloyd does result in holding boys to school who would otherwise drop out.

Sent to the Bad By Fractions.

This is especially true of boys who have trouble with and get discouraged over fractions. Failure to comprehend and get on with fractions has driven many a boy from the school to the street, and from the street to the reform school. Manual training, with its mechanical drawing, its exact measurements and its fractions of an inch, unlocks the mysteries of fractions for boys, gives them a definite grasp of parts of things as well as of wholes and tends to keep them interested in their school work until they have passed the period of extreme danger.

It may be said in closing that, although Prof. Murray adheres rather closely to the principles of sloyd as brought from Sweden, he modifies the forms to suit American customs and to meet American requirements. All the things made are useful and each step taken is progressive and there must be a well defined motive back of every task undertaken.

To put this all in a nutshell, school work fails and intellectual development stagnates where interest is lost and manual training keeps up interest. Therefore it stimulates intellectual achievement.

ANNUAL REPORT OF COURTS MARTIAL AND RESULTS IN THE NAVY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—In the annual report, Captain W. B. Dihn, judge advocate general of the navy, of record of general courts martial for the fiscal year shows that twelve commissioned officers were convicted and three acquitted, while 995 enlisted men were convicted and thirty acquitted. The record of summary courts martial shows that 417 bluejackets were convicted and 200 acquitted, and that 1915 marines (enlisted men) were convicted and seventy-seven acquitted. A total of 422 enlisted men were convicted of desertion, 147 of absence without leave, twenty-five of desertion and fraudulent enlistment and eighty-three of fraudulent enlistment.

Captain Dihn says that Colonel A. C. Kelton, United States marine corps, has developed in the naval prison at the Boston yard a school of discipline of the highest order for offenders against naval laws and regulations.

The large number of prisoners received from the Asiatic station has resulted in an overcrowding of the Mare Island prison to such an extent, the report says, that it became necessary to fit up two prison ships to relieve the situation until permanent extensions to the present shore institution can be provided by legislation. The Manila at Mare Island and the Nipis at Bremerton, Washington, are being prepared for the overflow of prisoners.

BAKU, Caucasus, Oct. 20.—The Muslims here have created a panic among the Russian inhabitants by warning those who are residing in houses belonging to Armenians to leave immediately. Many Russian families are leaving Baku.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Announcement was made at the state department today that Alvin Smith, American consul at Trinidad, has been removed from office. The cause is failure to render aid to decent behavior. All observing principals in the Rochester schools read-

IRVING'S ASHES CONSIGNED TO REST

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY IN THE GREAT ABBEY OF LONDON.

Amid Expressions of Sympathetic Affection From People in All Walks of English Life.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Beside that other great actor, Garrick, and under the shadow of the statue of Shakespeare, as the interpreter of whose plays he won fame, the ashes of Sir Henry Irving were today given burial in Westminster abbey, thus being accorded England's greatest tribute to her dead. The services, which were of an impressive character, were conducted in the presence of a congregation which included many of the highest official life of England, eminent representatives of all walks of life and all the representatives of the public to which Irving was so invariably attentive who could find standing room in the abbey.

King Edward was represented by General Sir Dighton Probyn, keeper of the privy purse, and the Prince of Wales was represented by Lieutenant Colonel Currie, controller of the prince's household, while the cabinet ministers and ambassadors attended in person. Whitelaw Reid, who is visiting in Scotland, came to London purposely to testify to America's regard for the dead tragedian.

Long before the hour set for the services, immense crowds gathered around the abbey and those having cards of admission were in their seats as early as 10 o'clock. Those who were unable to secure admittance remained about the entrance until the conclusion of the ceremony, when in common with thousands of others they passed through Poet's Corner to see the burial place.

The services, although short and simple, were most impressive. As the mourners arrived, Sir Frederick B. Ridge, the organist of Westminster abbey, played Chopin's funeral march, followed by Purcell's funeral march, rendered with trumpets and trombones. Then came Schubert's "Marche Solenne."

Sharply at noon the procession started from the chapel of St. Faith, where the casket containing the ashes had lain overnight, and passed through the cloisters to the space between the choir and the sanctuary where the casket, covered with the pall of laurel wreaths, was placed on a catafalque. During the procession the choir sang the hymn "Brief Life Is Here Our Portion." Then followed the psalm "Lord, Thou Hast Been Our Refuge." Lesson was read by Canon Bushworth, the substitute dean of Westminster, who was assisted in the service by Bishop Welton, Archdeacon Wilberforce and Canon Hensley Henson. The anthems were "Crossing the Bar" and "Weep Ye Not for the Dead."

After the anthems the casket was borne to the grave as the organ pealed for the funeral march, "God Save Us." The only mourners were Lady Irving and the sons of Sir Henry Irving.

A few intimate friends and the pallbearers followed the casket to the grave, in the narrow space surrounding which are tombs and statues of many of England's great men of letters.

Of the mass of floral pieces sent by friends and admirers of Irving but four had places during the service. One of these was a cross of lilacs from Queen Alexandra bearing the words:

"To Sir Henry Irving from the Queen."

"Into Thy hands, oh, Lord, into Thy hands."

Upon his arrival in London from Scotland, the morning Ambassador Reid sent the family of Sir Henry Irving a message conveying his personal regard for Sir Henry and sincere condolence on behalf of the American nation.

SIR EDWARD GREY SAYS LIBERALS WILL NOT CHANGE FOREIGN POLICY

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Addressing the City of London United Liberal society this afternoon, Sir Edward Grey, former secretary for foreign affairs in the Liberal administration of 1892-95, who in all probability will be foreign secretary in the next Liberal cabinet, said there was no foundation for the suggestions in some quarters that a change of government would bring a change of foreign policy. The three cardinal points of the British foreign policy, namely, friendship for America, the alliance with Japan and the agreement with France, all had the endorsement of the Liberal party. The Liberals, he said, were also of the opinion that the position of Russia should be re-established in the councils of Europe, while an improvement in the public relations between Germany and Great Britain must be considered conditional on the relations between Germany and France, also undergoing improvement.

The next election, however, would be fought on the question of free trade, which had made London what it was. It would be impossible, he believed, to get compensation for the loss of foreign trade by any arrangement it was in the power of fiscal reform to make.

GROVE L. JOHNSON WILL TRY TO GET NEW TRIAL FOR EMMONS

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 20.—Former Senator E. J. Emmons, recently convicted of bribery, is to appear before Superior Judge E. C. Hart for sentence at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. It is expected that Grove L. Johnson, leading counsel for the defense, will make a motion for a new trial on the ground that Juror A. Johnson had declared his belief in the guilt of all the senators accused of bribery in connection with the investigation of building and loan associations, and that despite his open expressions of conviction as to the guilt of the accused, he sat on the jury trying Emmons, making out that he could give the defendant a fair and impartial trial.

Johnson refused absolutely to disclose any information in this connection when approached by a reporter today, saying: "I have nothing to say about this or any other matter that may come before the Hart court. I have heard some stories about certain things, some of which we may use. What these stories are I am not going to say."

STANDARD COMPANY AGAIN ADVANCED PRICES OF OILS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—The Standard Oil company advanced the prices of all grades of crude oil, except Raglan, Pennsylvania, Tiona, Newcastle and Cabot oil were advanced 5 cents. Corning was raised 10 cents and Somerset 8 cents. The lower grades were advanced 2 cents. The quotations followed: Pennsylvania $1.63, Tiona $1.71, Corning $1.13, Newcastle $1.38, Cabot $1.21, North Lima 96c, South Lima, Indiana and Somerset 91c, Raglan 49c.

INDEPENDENCE, Kansas, Oct. 20.—The price of high grade western oil was advanced 1 cent a barrel here today by the Standard Oil company, to 50 cents. The price of fuel oil was not changed.

A DAYLIGHT TRIP.

Through San Joaquin Valley in Parlor Cars.

Travelers on the Southern Pacific may now see the great San Joaquin valley by daylight while riding through it in comfortable parlor cars. These new and finely furnished cars are carried on train No. 84, the Bakersfield Passenger, which leaves San Francisco daily at 8.30 a. m., arriving at Bakersfield 6.05 p. m., and on train 85, leaving Bakersfield 7.30 a. m., and arriving at San Francisco 4 p. m. These cars have large windows and easy cushions, and the daylight trip enables the traveler to see all the great valley.

Fuel Wanted.

The Board of Education of the city of Fresno desires bids for supplying the school department with fuel for the coming winter. Coal to be ordered in carload lots, and delivered to the various buildings as required. Wood to be delivered in lots of not less than one cord, as required. Oil to be delivered in quantities of not less than ten barrels as required. The particular kinds and qualities of all fuels to be specified. Bids to be in the hands of the Secretary of the Board on or before Monday, October 23d.

Insurance Premiums—Heavy Loss.

Records in the office of the Superintendent of Insurance indicate that about fourteen millions in cash is annually sent out of the state in the form of the insurance premiums. Some of the money may have been used for campaign expenses or in Wall street manipulations. The Conservative Life is a California company, invests and keeps the policy holder's money at home.

Important Notice.

Many people in Fresno work one whole day for $1; a dollar saved is a dollar made. You can make this $1 if you walk just two blocks to Foin & Sons, corner J and Merced, and get the celebrated Star Triumph Steel Range or Heating Stoves, Hardware and Plumbing. Bear this in mind.

THE TEN VIRGINS

OIL OF THEIR LAMPS REPRESENTS CHRISTIAN CHARACTER.

There is No Such Thing as Character Without Christ, Says Evangelist Bulgín.

The big revival tent at the corner of P and Mariposa streets was crowded last night. A special effort had been made to fill the tent because it was understood that the sermon of the evening was reckoned as one of the best of Evangelist E. J. Bulgín's sermons. "The Ten Virgins" was the subject and from the parable of that name the preacher plainly pointed out many very valuable lessons.

After reading the parable the evangelist took up the points in detail. "The oil represents the thing that fits the human soul for the coming of God. The oil is true Christian character and true piety. I am getting tired of the argument that you can build character without Christ. You can't any more do so than you can build a wheel without a hub. The Golden rule does not save anyone unless Christ goes with it. You have all heard that honesty is the best policy. I tell you that the man who is honest for policy's sake is no better than a horse thief. When you deal with God you have to do it because you think it is right.

"Now the bridesmaids were all alike except in one thing. Five had oil and five had none, five were wise and five foolish. The ten virgins is a picture of the persons in this church are on the journey without live truth and the other fifty per cent have live truth. I do not believe that there are more than a few hypocrites in the church. The best words to picture the biggest sin in the church are 'protracted infancy.' Lots of you are no older than the day you were born. You thirsted for Christ, and when you were born into Christ you ceased to develop.

"If you get out of the lethargy of the fifty per cent who are not thoroughly alive in God, I shall consider this the greatest revival ever experienced. I should rather get ten Christians aroused than get 100 into the church because ten Christians aroused will soon get in the 100 sinners.

"I do not believe that the opportunity makes the man. Man is made by gradual upbuilding of character, and when the time comes he is ready for it. I have no confidence in deathbed repentance. You can't scare a person into love. There must be a love of God because God loves you. If you can't love God in life you can't in death. A few death-bed repenters might get in to heaven by the skin of their teeth, but I think a very few. Why? Because you can't build a character in a minute. You need the shield of faith during life when there is danger of falling. "Some people say that the virgins were selfish because they did not divide the oil. Oil is character and you can't divide character. The opportunity for gaining character is while you live and when the time for making it closes it closes forever. Get ready for the great ordeal of death."

THE FRATERNITIES.

Degree of Honor Hears Reports From Lemore Convention

Martha lodge, Degree of Honor, was out in full force last night to hear reports from the Lemore convention and enjoy a social evening. The first part of the evening was given to the usual lodge business. Miss Maud Hancock was initiated and four applications were received. Then came a recess, after which the social part under the able supervision of Mrs. Hills, the captain of the B division, was begun. Each member responded to roll call with a quotation, after which the following program was given: Recitation, Mrs. Richardson; song, Walter Jarvis; piano solo, Miss Ivy Hart; choral, Mrs. J. M. Collins and Mrs. Richardson; paper, Mr. A. J. Moreland. A substantial supper followed the program. Those who attended the convention at Lemore on Thursday reported a royal good time. The Martha lodge drill team acquitted itself with credit in the drill contest. The convention was largely attended by the valley lodges and the local lodge welcomed the visitors in hospitable manner. The next convention will be held in Fresno next April.

Odd Fellows.

Encampment No. 78, I. O. O. F., initiated A. B. Smith in the patriarchal degree of Odd Fellowship. The other business of the meeting was purely routine. Social affairs have been temporarily suspended until the completion of the new building.

Rathbone Sisters.

The Rathbone Sisters gave considerable time last evening to the discussion of a Hallows' social to be given next Friday night. Refreshments will be served and a small admission of 10 cents will be charged. The knights of Pythias and friends are invited to the social. A committee of arrangements appointed last night included Mesdames Kate Kellogg, Annie Madson, Annie Rich, Misses Bertha Kellogg and Sophie Cline.

Knights of Pythias.

Knights of Pythias conferred the rank of esquire last night upon C. Albin Cole. Business was dispensed with as soon as possible to prepare for the banquet, at which the knights entertained the Rathbone Sisters. The banquet table was laden with good things and the feast was a merry one. This is the first of a series that the knights anticipate giving during the winter.

Greetings, Fellow Christians!

Regardless of denominations. There are to be held two bible study meetings for the promotion of Christian knowledge and not to build up another sect, of which, as all agree, there are already too many. These lectures or discourses, are to be held in St. Andrew's Hall, Edgerly block, over postoffice, on the evenings of October 25th and 26th. By Pilgrim John Harrison, on the subject of "The Millennium or Christ's Thousand Year Reign and Its Object." All are cordially invited to attend. No collections. Free tracts.

Weather Conditions.

The area of low pressure has moved rapidly eastward and is now central over Lake Superior, and an area of local rains covers the New England states and the region bordering on the Great Lakes. Extending southwestward to Texas. Thunderstorms have occurred at San Antonio, Cincinnati, Cleveland and Buffalo, and the following heavy rains have been reported: Cincinnati, 7.0 inch; Pittsburg and San Antonio, .62 and .81, Paul, .58.

An area of high pressure predominates over the region west of the Mississippi river, and its accompanying cold wave covers the greater portion of the country from the Rocky mountains eastward. Westward from the Rocky mountains the weather is becoming warmer.

In California the weather is clear and slightly warmer, except cloudy at San Diego and San Luis Obispo.

BARTON ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Eckhardt's Ideals for a Week Beginning Tomorrow Night

"Virginia" will be the offering at the Barton tomorrow night, the first of a week's engagement of the popular Eckhardt's Ideals, at prices of 10, 20 and 30 cents. Miss Florence Young will be seen in the title role and the supporting company will include Oliver J. Eckhardt, W. Robert Hildebrich, William H. Anderson, Chester Stevens, M. Adair, Harry, Ella Morton and Cecilia Nichols. Among the bright lights of vaudeville specialties who will illumine the performances of the Ideals the coming week are Chester Stevens, Oliver J. Eckhardt, Harry Belmore and others. Seats are on sale.

"Peggy From Paris."

"Peggy From Paris," a George Ade musical comedy which will be at the Barton next Tuesday night, October 25, is distinguished not alone for its wit but for its originality and its many novelties. One of the latter, which is of striking interest to persons uninitiated behind the scenes of a theater, is the setting of a stage in full view of the spectators. The process is carried out in reality, not in pretense. The set of scenery is "struck," which is the theatrical expression for removed, and another scene is set in place or "made," and all in plain sight of the audience. It is actually a part of the action of the play. The scene represents the preparation of the stage of the Paragon theater in London for the reception of a distinguished foreign singer. The stage hands rush on, and under the guidance of the stage manager perform their allotted tasks. The property men "clear" and "set" props. The signal is given for lights, then at the proper indication the orchestra strikes into a melody. This setting of the stage is carried out in detail precisely as if it were behind a lowered curtain. It is an object lesson of unflinching interest to all those who are not familiar with those mysterious regions behind the scenes. The sale of seats will open Monday morning at 9 o'clock.

PRICES CURRENT

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Strength in the wheat pit developed after the market had experienced a decline as a result of fear selling by numerous commission houses. The market appeared to be governed almost exclusively by the maneuvers of a prominent long, little attention seemingly being paid to the news of the day. At the opening December was unchanged to 1/2c higher at 89 1/2c. Sentiment in the pit was bearish owing to the general impression created by the leading bull with fairly large sales through commission houses. This view of the situation caused free selling by pit traders. For a time no special demand was in evidence and in consequence prices declined, December dropping to 88 1/2c.

The leader of the bulls seemed then to change front and gave the market open support. This resulted in a scramble among shorts, who strenuously sought to cover. At the same time offerings became exceedingly light. A quick advance in prices followed, December selling up to 89 1/2c. Bullish advice from the Southwest helped to maintain a firm undertone throughout the remainder of the session. The market closed with December at 89 1/2c. Strength of wheat had a bullish effect on the corn market and made a strong close, final quotations being at 44 1/2c for December and unchanged from yesterday.

The feature of the trading in provisions was active selling by a local packing company, as a result of which this market became quite weak. At the close January pork was off 7 1/2c, lard was down 5c and ribs were 2 1/2c lower.

San Francisco Grain.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Wheat quiet; December $1.37 1/2.
Barley stronger; December $1.14 1/2.
May $1.16 1/2.
Corn, large yellow $1.40c $1.45.
Bran $2.26 $2.30.

Dried Fruit Market.

NEW YORK.—The market for evaporated apples remains quiet and steady on spot with high grades practically out of supply. Common to good are quoted at 5 1/2c to 7 1/2c.
Prunes are still in very small supply on spot with prices firmly held ranging from 4 1/2c to 7 1/2c.
Apples, firm and unchanged.
Oranges are quoted at 8 1/2c to 9c; extra choice 9 1/2c to 10c and fancy 10 1/2c to 11c.
Peaches are out of the immediate market.

Raisins are without fresh feature.

Loose Muscatels are quoted at 6 1/2c to 7c; seeded raisins 5 1/2c to 6c; and London layers at $1.35 $1.40.

Butter, Cheese and Eggs.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Butter: Fancy creamery 21 seconds, 22.
Cheese: Eastern 15 1/2c; Young America 14 1/4c.

COMMANDER YOUNG BEGAN HIS EVIDENCE BEFORE COURT MARTIAL

MAKÉ ISLAND, Oct. 20.—Commander Lucien Young, who is being tried by a court martial on charges growing out of the recent explosion of the gunboat Bonington at San Diego, Cal., took the witness stand today.

He said that when he assumed command of the Bonington, he, with his predecessor, made a complete inspection of the engineer department. His attention was called to the tumbling down of a crown sheet and patch on boiler. In a few days he made a report but not until satisfying himself of the actual condition existing there. After inspecting the ship's crew and witnessing drills, he found the ship in good condition regarding cleanliness, and upon inspection of the engines and appliances found them good, but the boilers were in poor condition, but no undue strain were placed upon them they might last an indefinite period.
